

CONTENTS

vii Foreword: Some Assembly Required JOHN DURHAM PETERS

xi Acknowledgments

i Introduction: The Logistics of Media MATTHEW HOCKENBERRY, NICOLE STAROSIELSKI, AND SUSAN ZIEGER

PART I THE LOGISTICAL IMAGINATION: IMAGE, SOUND, SUBJECT

23 1. Habits of Assembly STEFANO HARNEY AND FRED MOTEN

→ Storage Solutions [32]

34 2. “Shipped”: Paper, Print, and the Atlantic Slave Trade SUSAN ZIEGER

→ Losticial Magic [52]

54 3. Pan-African Logistics EBONY COLETU

→ The March of Data [73]

75 4. The Pulse of Global Passage: Listening to Logistics

SHANNON MATTERN

PART II LOGISTICAL INSTRUMENTS: EFFICIENCY, AUTOMATION, INTEROPERABILITY

→ Beneath the Great White Way [93]

94 5. Colonization’s Logistical Media: The Ship and the Document

LIAM COLE YOUNG

→ Always Already Assembled [111]

113 6. “Every Man within Earshot”: Auditory Efficiency in the
Time of the Telephone MATTHEW HOCKENBERRY

→ Logistical Software [130]

132 7. Logistical Media Theory, the Politics of Time, and the Geopolitics of Automation NED ROSSITER

PART III SUPPLY CHAIN MEDIA: DIGITIZATION, GLOBALIZATION, EXPLOITATION

→ “It’s Loud and It’s Tasteless
and I’ve Heard It Before” [153]

- 154 8. Carry That Weight: The Costs of Delivery and the Ecology of Vinyl Records’ Revival MICHAEL PALM

→ Sound from a Music Container [169]

- 171 9. Supply Chain Cinema, Supply Chain Education: Training
Creative Wizardry for Offshored Exploitation KAY DICKINSON

→ Forklift Cinema [188]

- 190 10. The Politics of Cable Supply from the British Empire to
Huawei Marine NICOLE STAROSIELSKI

→ Who Watches the Watchers? [206]

- 207 11. Laugh Out Loud TUNG-HUI HU

225 Selected Bibliography

235 Contributors

239 Index