

Contents

List of Figures	viii
List of Tables	ix
A Note on Terms, Translations, and Usages	x
Preface to the Paperback Edition	xi
Acknowledgments	xv
Introduction: Printing, Eurocentrism, and the Study of the Social in Early Modern China	i
1. Cost of Production and Book Prices	19
2. The Chinese Book and Late-Ming Publishing	57
3. Commodification of Writing, Examinations, and Publishing	90
4. Paratext: Commentaries, Ideology, and Politics	149
5. Public Authority, Literary Critics, and Organizational Power	189
Conclusion: Printing and Literary Culture in Early Modern China	241
Appendixes	255
Character List	269
Abbreviations	291
Notes	297
Bibliography	355
Index	385