Figures

1. Livy's History of Rome written in scriptura continua. 5
2. The book of Haggai written in cola et commata. 16
3. Separated script in Pseudo Jerome, Epistola degradus Romanorum, copied by an Anglo-Saxon scribe ca. 900. 31
4. Letter blocks in the Cathach Psalter. 34
5. Syllable blocks in the Antiphonary of Bangor. 35
6. Hierarchical letter blocks in a patristic miscellany. 36
7. Hierarchical word blocks in the Regiensis Livy. 37
8. The psalms written in hierarchical word blocks with syllables pedagogically marked by interpuncts. 38
9. Morphemic hierarchical word blocks in the English translation of Orosius's Seven Books Against the Pagans, the Tollemache manuscript. 42
10. Summary of nomenclature for space in script. 45
11. Canonical separation in the writing of the scribe Goderan in Josephus, De bello iudaico. 46
12. The successor note to the diastole, trait d'union, and accenting of double ii used by an emendator to remove ambiguity from unseparated script in Boethius's De consolatione philosophiae. 56
13. The successor note to the diastole used to separate words in Philippus's In Job. 58
14. The terminal capital S in Beranger of Tours' Rescripta contra Lanfrancum. 60
15. A ligature breaching intersyllabic space in the Old Testament. 67
16. Alphabetical construction notes in Aldhelm's De virginitate. 71

17. Table with references to folios in Gregorio di Cantino's Liber largitorius. 78
18. A schematic tree diagram accompanying Boethius's De topicis differentiis. 80
19. The text format of Bede's description of the diastole in the De orthographia. 86
20. Word separation in the earliest treatise on word order, the Quomodo septem circumstantiae rerum in legendo orchinande sint. 104
21. The Psalms in word-separated Greek, Latin Greek, and Latin in the Psalter of Sedulius. 112
22. Word images in a tironian psalter and glossary. 116
23. Word separation in the earliest Latin treatise on the astrolabe. 128
24. Signs for fractions in Victorius's Calculus. 138
25. Word separation and related characteristics in Gerbert's Scholium ad Boethii Arithmeticam institutionem. 145
26. The authorial manuscript of Richer's Historia francorum. 148
27. Abbo's possible autograph script in Boethius's translation of Aristotle's Categoriae. 156
28. The word separation in syllogisms transcribed at Fleury in Abbo's De propositionibus et syllogismis categoricis et hypotheticis. 157
29. The authorial copy of Gérard I of Florennes's Gesta episcoporum Cameracensium. 172
30. Script attributed to the scribe Wichard, in Terence's Comoediae, ca. 1030. 199
31. Word separation in a contemporary copy of John of Fécamp's Epistula ad monachos dyscolos. 206
32. A pen sketch of a motionless reader in a manuscript from Fécamp containing Gerbert's Regulae de numerorum abaci rationibus. 207
33. The authorial manuscript of Anselm's Epistola de sacrificio azimi et fermentati, written in canonically separated script. 213
34. Pedagogical word separation by points and space in the Dicta Leonis. 229
35. Word separation in Pope Gregory VII's Dictatus Papae. 240
36. Silent reading in the mid-fifteenth century, an illumination from Jacque Le Grand's Livre des bonnes moeurs. 262