
Contents

Introduction—Beyond Manifest Destiny: American Studies, National Identity, and Other Worlds	1
1 The World as Pedagogical Spectacle: Antebellum Geography Textbooks	27
2 “Precepts Graven on Every Breast”: Melville’s Typee , Polynesia, and the Forms of the Law	61
3 Desire, Transgression, and the Holy Land	97
4 The Archaeological Sublime of Tropical America: Ephraim G. Squier and John L. Stephens	150
5 Outgrowing the Boundaries of North America: Martin R. Delany, Africa, and the Question of African-American Agency	194
Conclusion—The World Archive and the National Canon of Memory	243
Notes	267
Works Cited	301
Index	323