

A NOTE ON ROMANIZATION AND NAMES

I used the revised Hepburn system for Japanese terms and names and the McCune-Reischauer romanization for Korean. Exceptions were made for some regional names (e.g., Tokyo instead of Tōkyō) to reflect conventional use of such terms. As for names, I followed the standard order of Asian names (i.e., the surname followed by the given name) with some exceptions where Asian authors published their work in English.

This page intentionally left blank

WOMBS of
EMPIRE

This page intentionally left blank