

Contents

Acknowledgments	6
Introduction	7
1. His Master's Voice? Ries, Reputation, and the String Quartet Allan Badley	14
2. The "Middle-Period" String Quartets of Spohr and Beethoven Nancy November	43
3. Counterpoint without Anxiety? Andreas Romberg's String Quartets Op. 2, Dedicated to Haydn W. Dean Sutcliffe	66
4. On the Fugues in Anton Reicha's Quatuor Scientifique : Between Tradition and Innovation Mai Koshikakezawa	108
5. The Other "Razumovsky" Quartets: Franz Weiss's Op. 8 and the Formation of Vienna's Kennerpublikum Mark Ferraguto	130
6. Hyacinthe Jadin and the Sound of Revolution: Recovering French String Quartet Aesthetics in 1790s Paris Callum Blackmore	170
7. "One for the Rode": The Contribution of Pierre Rode and the Quatuor Brillant to the Early Nineteenth-Century String Quartet Sam Girling	207
8. A Surprise to the Ears, an Amusement for the Eyes: Compositional Strategy and Audience Response to String Quartets ca. 1800 Yoko Maruyama	228
9. The Canonization of Beethoven's String Quartets in the Musikalisches Taschenbuch auf das Jahr 1803 Christian Speck	248
Contributors	268
Index	271