

Contents

Abbreviations	xi
Preface	xiii
CHAPTER ONE
Formerly Famous but Long Since Forgotten: Peter Comestor's Historia scholastica	I
I. Fortuna	5
II. Historical Contexts and Historiography	15
a. Comestor and the Lombard	15
b. Comestor and the Victorines	23
c. Comestor and the Glossatores	43
d. Comestor in the Schools	49
III. Concluding Observations	51
CHAPTER TWO
Lessons Learned in the Classroom: Comestor's Lectures on the Glossed Gospels	52
I. Comestor's Classroom Experience	54
a. Ordering Biblical Text and Glosses	59
b. History and Mystery	71
CHAPTER THREE
From the Gloss to the History	84
I. The Gloss as Introductory Biblical Textbook	85
a. The Problem of Scale	86
b. The Problem of Organization	100

CHAPTER FOUR

Towards a Better Textbook: The Making of the Historia scholastica 109

- I. The Building Blocks of the History 114
  - a. The Bible 114
  - b. The Glosses 127
  - c. Extra-Biblical Sources 133
- II. Method and Structure 144
  - a. Comestor's Abridgement of Scripture and the Tradition of Glosses 145
  - b. History Alone 151

CHAPTER FIVE

The Case for a "Langton" Edition of the History 157

- I. The Quest for a Pre-Scholastic Edition of the Comestor's History 158
  - a. The Problem of the "Notes" to the History 161
- II. Langton as a Witness to the Early Textual History of the Historia scholastica 163
  - a. Comestor and Langton at Paris, ca. 1160 to ca. 1180 170
  - b. Langton and the "Notes" to the History 172
- III. Towards a "Langton" or "University" Edition of the Historia scholastica 184

CHAPTER SIX

Stephen Langton: Comestor's Student, Collaborator, Colleague 187

- I. The Formation of the University Text: The Pre-1176 Series of Lectures 188
  - a. Langton as Textual Witness 188
  - b. Langton as Student 193
- II. The Formation of the University Text: Revising the Pre-1176 Lectures and the History 198
  - a. Langton as Colleague 198
  - b. Langton as Disciple 201
  - c. Langton as Collaborator 205
- III. The Final, Magisterial Revision 212

CHAPTER SEVEN

Langton's Course on the Historia scholastica: The Making of a University Textbook 214

- I. The Series of Lectures 215
- II. From Lecture Course to Textbook 222
- III. The Second, Revised Edition 231
  - a. Refining the Course 232
  - b. Correcting the Magister Historiarum 236
  - c. A Magisterial Voice 248
- IV. The Creation of a Lasting Tradition 250

CHAPTER EIGHT

Conclusions 254

Textual Appendices 260

- A.1: The prefaces and opening chapters of Comestor's Historia Genesis. 264
- A.2: The prefaces and opening chapters of the first version, namely the classroom lectures, of Stephen Langton's course on the Historia Genesis. 270
- A.3: The prefaces and opening chapters of the second version, namely the first revision (accomplished before 1176), of Stephen Langton's course on the Historia Genesis. 274
- A.4: The prefaces and opening chapters of the third version, namely the second revision (accomplished before 1193), of Stephen Langton's course on the Historia Genesis. 278
- B.1: The prefaces and opening chapters of Comestor's Historia evangelica. 285
- B.2: The prefaces and opening chapters of the first version, namely the classroom lectures, of Stephen Langton's course on the Historia evangelica. 292
- B.3: The prefaces and opening chapters of the second version, namely the first revision (accomplished before 1176), of Stephen Langton's course on the Historia evangelica. 296
- B.4: The prefaces and opening chapters of the third version, namely the second revision (accomplished before 1193), of Stephen Langton's course on the Historia evangelica. 300

Bibliography 304

Index of Scriptural Citations 316

General Index 318

