

FIGURES

Figure 1. Members of the Hitler Youth building a snowman with features based on anti-Semitic stereotypes. Bildarchiv preussischer Kulturbesitz, Berlin/Art Resource, NY.	xii
Figure 2. Anti-Semitic caricature adorning the cover of a German satire magazine, early 1920s. Bildarchiv preussischer Kulturbesitz, Berlin/Art Resource, NY.	16
Figure 3. Jewish men who had been placed under arrest after the Kristallnacht pogrom being marched through the streets of Baden-Baden, 10 November 1938. Bundesarchiv, Berlin.	40
Figure 4. Policemen on patrol in Berlin after the Kristallnacht pogrom, November 1938. Bundesarchiv, Berlin.	58
Figure 5. “He is to blame for the war!” A propaganda poster holding the Jews collectively responsible for the Second World War, 1943. Bundesarchiv, Berlin.	84
Figure 6. Bernhard K., who survived the Holocaust in hiding, with his protector, his neighbor Kathi S., Munich 1942. Courtesy of Bernhard K.	106
Figure 7. Jewish displaced persons protesting the publication of an anti-Semitic letter in the Süddeutsche Zeitung newspaper, Munich, August 1949. Bildarchiv preussischer Kulturbesitz, Berlin/Art Resource, NY.	130

Figure 1. Members of the Hitler Youth building a snowman with features based on anti-Semitic stereotypes.