

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We would like to thank all of the institutions and individuals who made the truly collective adventure of this book possible. The international conference “Exploring the Microhistory of the Holocaust,” which took place in Paris in December 2012 and was the origin of this work, enjoyed the support of the Ecole normale supérieure, as well as the early and enthusiastic support of three of its directors, Guillaume Bonnet, Michel Espagne, and Christophe Charle. We would also like to thank the Fondation pour la mémoire de la Shoah, the région Ile de France, the Direction de la mémoire, du patrimoine et des archives (DMAP), the Archives nationales, the Mémorial de la Shoah, and the Institut universitaire de France.

Aside from institutions, we have not forgotten the many helping hands who provided support at various moments of this adventure: Ivan Ermakoff and Nicolas Mariot, our associates on the organization committee with whom we developed the first phases, Annette Wiewiorka, Maurice Olender, Jan Gross, Dieter Pohl, Omer Bartov, and the anonymous readers of the early versions of this manuscript, whose comments helped to greatly improve it. Our heartfelt thanks to John Angell and Arby Gharibian, who translated and edited the texts with elegance. Last but not least, this book owes a tremendous deal to the invaluable help of Virginie Durand (UMR 8138 Sirice), who assisted us throughout the adventure with energy, rigor, friendship, and incredible good humor. We are deeply grateful to her, from the bottom of our hearts.
