

CONTENTS

List of Illustrations and Tables	viii
Acknowledgments	x
Introduction
Toward a Microhistory of the Holocaust	1
Claire Zalc and Tal Bruttman
Part I. Biographies, Groups, Transports, Ghettos: The Scales of Analysis
Chapter 1
An Inconceivable Emigration: Richard Frank's Flight from Germany to Switzerland in 1942	17
Christoph Kreutzmüller
Chapter 2
Pursuing Escape from Vienna: The Katz Family's Correspondence	29
Melissa Jane Taylor
Chapter 3
Moving Together, Moving Alone: The Story of Boys on a Transport from Auschwitz to Buchenwald	44
Kenneth Waltzer
Chapter 4
Dehumanizing the Dead: The Destruction of Thessaloniki's Jewish Cemetery	68
Leon Saltiel
Chapter 5
Reconstructing Trajectories of Persecution: Reflections on a Prosopography of Holocaust Victims	85
Nicolas Mariot and Claire Zalc

Chapter 6
Microhistories, Microgeographies: Budapest, 1944, and Scales of Analysis	113
Tim Cole and Alberto Giordano

Part II. Face-To-Face: Victims and Perpetrators

Chapter 7
Microhistory of the Holocaust in Poland: New Sources, New Trails	131
Jan Grabowski
Chapter 8
Jewish Slave Workers in the German Aviation Industry	151
Daniel Uziel
Chapter 9
The Devil in Microhistory: The “Hunt for Jews” as a Social Process, 1942–1945	171
Tomasz Frydel
Chapter 10
On the Persistence of Moral Judgment: Local Perpetrators in Transnistria as Seen by Survivors and Their Christian Neighbors	190
Vladimir Solonari
Chapter 11
Defiance and Protest: A Comparative Microhistorical Reevaluation of Individual Jewish Responses to Nazi Persecution	209
Wolf Gruner
Chapter 12
The Murder of the Jews of Ostrów Mazowiecka in November 1939	227
Markus Roth
Chapter 13
Échirolles, 7 August 1944: A Triple Execution	242
Tal Bruttman
Chapter 14
The Beginning—First Massacres against the Jews in the Romanian Holocaust: Level of Decision, Genocidal Strategy, and Killing Methods regarding Dorohoi and Galați Pogroms, June–July, 1940	251
Alexandru Muraru

Part III. The Material for Shifting Scales: Sources between Testimonies and Archives

Chapter 15
The Holocaust and Postwar Justice in Poland in Three Acts	267
Andrew Kornbluth

Chapter 16
The Small and the Good: Microhistory through the Eyes of the Witness—A Case Study	285
Hannah Pollin-Galay
Chapter 17
The Witness against the Archive: Toward a Microhistory of Christianstadt	300
Jeffrey Wallen
Index	315