

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	x
Introduction
Scaling Down in Order to Cool Down	1
Thomas Hylland Eriksen and Paulo Mendes
Part I. Ways of Knowing	25
Chapter 1
Environmental Pluralism: Knowing the Namibian Weather in Times of Climate Change	29
Michael Schnegg
Chapter 2
How a Storm Feels: Storying Climate Change in the Eastern Himalayas	49
Alexander Aisher
Chapter 3
Who Is Perturbed by Ecological Perturbations? Marine Scientists' and Polynesian Fishers' Understandings of a Crown-of-Thorns Starfish Outbreak	65
Matthew Lauer, Terava Atger, Sally J. Holbrook, Andrew Rassweiler, Russell J. Schmitt, and Jean Wencélius
Chapter 4
Urban Transformations in the Hydric Landscapes of Belém, Brazil: Environmental Memories and Urban Floods	90
Pedro Paulo de Miranda Araújo Soares
Part II. Situations and Decisions	109
Chapter 5
Climate Change and Mitigation in Bangladesh: Vulnerability in Urban Locations	113
Tasneem Siddiqui, Mohammad Jalal Uddin Sikder, and Mohammad Rashed Alam Bhuiyan

Chapter 6
Localizing Climate Change: Confronting Oversimplification of Local Responses	131
Brian Orland, Meredith Welch-Devine, and Micah Taylor
Chapter 7
“The Times They Are A-Changin’” but “The Song Remains the Same”: Climate Change Narratives from the Coromandel Peninsula, Aotearoa New Zealand	167
Paul Schneider and Bruce Glavovic
Chapter 8
Climate Change and East Africa’s Past: Three Cautionary Tales	201
A. Peter Castro
Chapter 9
“Our Existence Is Literally Melting Away”: Narrating and Fighting Climate Change in a Glacier Ski Resort in Austria	223
Herta Nöbauer
Part III. Politics, Policies, and Contestation	245
Chapter 10
Where Floods Are Allowed: Climate Adaptation as Defiant Acceptance in the Elbe River Valley	249
Kristoffer Albris
Chapter 11
Climate Resilience through Equity and Justice: Holistic Leadership by Tribal Nations and Indigenous Communities in the Southwestern United States	269
Julie Maldonado and Beth Rose Middleton
Chapter 12
The Return to What Has Never Been: A View on the Animal Presence in Future Natures	292
Guilherme José da Silva e Sá
Chapter 13
Emitting Inequity: The Sociopolitical Life of Anthropogenic Climate Change in Oaxaca, Mexico	313
Amanda Leppert and Roberto E. Barrios
Chapter 14
Disaster and Climate Change	339
Susanna M. Hoffman
Afterword
Toward Eco-Socialism as a Global and Local Strategy to Cool Down the World-System	363
Hans A. Baer
Index	377