

CONTENTS

List of Figures	ix
Preface	xii
Introduction	1
1. Bold Island	12
2. Nebraska	16
3. Early Years in Wahoo and Lincoln	25
4. On the Chautauqua Circuit	30
5. Studying in New York	35
6. Studying at Northwestern University	44
7. Teaching at the College of the Pacific	50
8. Dean of the Conservatory	55
9. Prix de Rome	64
10. At the American Academy	76
11. Travels in Europe and Composing in Rome	82
12. An Invitation from Rochester	87
13. Beginnings in Rochester and the Establishment of N.A.S.M.	100
14. Joseph Maddy and the National Music Camp	108
15. Finding Time for Composition	114
16. Conductors and Orchestras	120
17. Promoting the Cause of American Music	124
18. Radio Broadcasts and Recordings	132
19. Concerts at the Library of Congress	139
20. The Lament for Beowulf and the First Two Symphonies	143
21. Return to Rome	149

22. Conducting Concerts in Germany	153
23. A Commission to Write an Opera	157
24. The Metropolitan Opera Production of Merry Mount	161
25. Serious Challenges at the Eastman School	175
26. The Death of George Eastman and Rush Rhees's Retirement	181
27. Chautauqua Memories	187
28. Thoughts on Orchestral Conducting	194
29. Working for UNESCO	198
30. Working with University of Rochester Presidents	204
31. The American Society of Composers, Authors, and Publishers	210
32. Experiences with Several American Presidents	215
33. Honorary Doctorates and Other Honors	221
34. Eastman School Students	225
35. An Author and a Lecturer	229
36. An Invitation from the State Department	235
37. The Eastman Philharmonia Tour (I)	247
38. The Eastman Philharmonia Tour (II)	252
39. The Eastman Philharmonia Tour (III)	257
40. The Eastman Philharmonia Tour (IV)	263
41. The Eastman Philharmonia Tour (V)	267
42. The Eastman Philharmonia Tour (VI)	272
43. Encounters With Various Musicians	276
44. Composing During the Nineteen-Fifties	280
45. Reflection at the End of a Long Career	288
Appendix: Letters from Howard Hanson to His Parents	299
Index	323