

---

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
1. Introduction: Folk Healing in Contemporary Britain and Ireland: Revival, Revitalisation or Reinvention? Ronnie Moore and Stuart McClean	1
2. Folk Healing and a Post-scientific World Ronnie Moore and Stuart McClean	22
3. The Medical Marketplace and Medical Tradition in Nineteenth-century Ireland Catherine Cox	55
4. Folk Healing in Rural Wales: The Use of Wool Measuring Susan Philpin	80
5. A General Practice, A Country Practice: The Cure, the Charm and Informal Healing in Northern Ireland Ronnie Moore	104
6. Rescuing Folk Remedies: Ethnoknowledge and the Reinvention of Indigenous Herbal Medicine in Britain Ayo Wahlberg	130
7. Crystal and Spiritual Healing in Northern England: Folk-inspired Systems of Medicine Stuart McClean	156

8. Medical Pluralism in the Republic of Ireland: Biomedicines as Ethnomedicines	181
Anne MacFarlane and Tomas de Brún
9. Born To It and Then Pushed Out of It: Folk Healing in the New Complementary and Alternative Medicine Marketplace	201
Geraldine Lee-Treweek
10. Beyond Legislation: Why Chicken Soup and Regulation Don't Mix	226
Julie Stone
11. Epilogue: Towards Authentic Medicine: Bodies and Boundaries	254
Stuart McClean and Ronnie Moore
Notes on Contributors	273
Index	275

For Rebecca Sarah and Lucy Constance

