

CONTENTS

List of Figures	vii
-----------------	-----

Introduction: Child-Rearing and Citizenship in the Twentieth Century Dirk Schumann	1
--	---

PART I. FOUNDATIONS

1. Children and the National Interest Sonya Michel, with Eszter Varsa	27
---	----

PART II. NEW BEGINNINGS

2. Children's Future, Nation's Future: Race, Citizenship, and the United States Children's Bureau Katharine S. Bullard	53
3. From Reform Pedagogy to War Pedagogy: Education Reform before 1914 and the Mobilization for War in Germany Andrew Donson	68
4. "Linked with the Welfare of All Peoples": The American Kindergarten, Americanization, and Internationalism in the First World War Ellen L. Berg	85

PART III. REDEFINING PARENTS' ROLES

5. How Should We Raise Our Son Benjamin? Advice Literature for Mothers in Early Twentieth-Century Germany Carolyn Kay	105
--	-----

6. Debunking Mother Love: American Mothers and the Momism Critique in the Mid Twentieth Century Rebecca Jo Plant	122
7. Fatherhood, Rechristianization, and the Quest for Democracy in Postwar West Germany Till van Rahden	141
PART IV. PARENTAL RIGHTS AND STATE DEMANDS
8. Who Owns Children? Parents, Children, and the State in the United States South Charles A. Israel	167
9. “Children Betray their Father and Mother”: Collective Education, Nationalism, and Democracy in the Bohemian Lands, 1900–1948 Tara Zahra	186
10. Asserting Their “Natural Right”: Parents and Public Schooling in Post-1945 Germany Dirk Schumann	206
11. “Special Relationships”: The State, Social Workers, and Abused Children in the United States, 1950–1990 Lynne Curry	226
Select Bibliography	244
Contributors	249