

Contents

List of authors
Acknowledgement	1
Introduction	3
Part I
Naturalism and Worldviews
1. Gerhard Vollmer: Can Everything be Rationally Explained Everywhere in the World?	25
2. Nancey Murphy: Naturalism and Theism as Competing Traditions	49
3. Thomas Sukopp: How Successful Is Naturalism? Talking about Achievements beyond Theism and Scientism	77
Part II
Epistemology and Ontology
4. Michael C. Rea: How Successful Is Naturalism?	105
5. Ulrich Frey: Naturalized Philosophy of Science: A Cognitive Approach	117
6. P.M.S. Hacker: Passing by the Naturalistic Turn: On Quine's Cul-De-Sac	143
7. Georg Gasser & Matthias Stefan: The Heavy Burden of Proof for Ontological Naturalism	159
8. Konrad Talmont-Kaminski: Reason, Red in Tooth and Claw: Naturalising Enlightenment Thinking	183
Part III
The Human Person
9. Lynne Rudder Baker: Naturalism and the First-Person Perspective	203
10. Josef Quitterer: Which Ontology for Naturalists?	227
11. Johannes L. Brandl: The Unmysteriousness of Consciousness: A Case Study in Naturalistic Philosophy	243
12. Helmut Fink: Indeterminacy of a Free Choice: Ontic, Epistemic, or Logical?	267
13. Winfried Löffler: What Naturalists always Knew about Freedom: A Case Study in Narrative Sources of "Scientific Facts"	283

