

Table of contents

Contributors — vii

List of figures and tables — ix

Sylvie Hancil and Joan C. Beal

1 Introduction — 1

I Enregisterment

Joan C. Beal

2 Northern English and enregisterment — 17

Katie Wales

3 Dickens and northern English. Stereotyping and “authenticity” re-considered — 41

Michael Pearce

4 The linguistic landscape of north-east England — 61

Patrick Honeybone, Kevin Watson & Sarah van Eyndhoven

5 Lenition and T-t-R are differently salient: the representation of competing realisations of /t/ in Liverpool English dialect literature — 83

II Phonology

Sandra Jansen

6 External and internal factors in a levelling process. Prevocalic (r) in Carlisle English — 111

Marten Juskan

7 Scouse NURSE and northern happY: vowel change in Liverpool English — 135

III Syntax and discourse features

Sanna Hillberg

8 Are Scottish national identities reflected in the syntax of Scottish newspapers? — 169

Sylvie Hancil

- 9 Final but in northern Englishes — 191

IV Sociolinguistics

Marie Jensen

- 10 Education, class and vernacular awareness on Tyneside — 215

Mercedes Durham

- 11 Changing domains of dialect use. A real-time study of Shetland schoolchildren — 245

V Language and corpus

Ole Schützler, Ulrike Gut & Robert Fuchs

- 12 New perspectives on Scottish Standard English. Introducing the Scottish component of the International Corpus of English — 273

- Index — 303