Acknowledgements

We would like to thank the Swiss National Science Foundation (SNSF) which has supported this project from the outset, the Institute of Archaeology and Sciences of Antiquity and the Interfaculty Department of History and Sciences of Religions at the University of Lausanne, as well as the proofreaders, Vladimir Makarov and Jon Wilcox, who greatly improved the English expression, the Institutions which allowed the publication of photographs from their archives, and, finally, the Schweizerische Asiengesellschaft which generously welcomed the book in one of its collections. Our thanks go also to all of the authors who have embarked with us on this complex scientific adventure and contributed with their knowledge to the quality of these studies.
