

About the Author

Andrew Ryder is an associate professor in the Institute of Political and International Studies at Eötvös Loránd University in Budapest, Hungary. Prior to this he held academic positions at the Corvinus University Budapest and the universities of Bristol and Birmingham. Ryder has a longstanding history of social justice activism and campaigning. He is a fellow of the Royal Society for Arts.