

Acknowledgements

The research for this monograph was generously funded through a Brückenstipendium by the University of Bremen (Apr.–Dec. 2014) and a dissertation fellowship by the Evangelisches Studienwerk e.V. (Jan. 2015–Mar. 2017). I also received financial support for research stays and conference travels from the Evangelisches Studienwerk, the Central Research Development Fund of the University of Bremen, the Bremen Institute of Canada and Québec Studies, the Postgraduate Forum of the German Association for American Studies, and the Emerging Scholars Forum of the Association for Canadian Studies in German-Speaking Countries. I thank the series editors Prof. Dr. Carsten Junker, Prof. Dr. Julia Roth und Prof. Dr. Dariack Scott for accepting my manuscript for their American Frictions series.

First ideas and different versions of parts of the introduction and chapters 1.1.–1.4 as well as chapters 2.2. and 2.3. were published in

- von Gleich, Paula. "African American Narratives of Captivity and Fugitivity: Developing Post-Slavery Questions for Angela Davis: An Autobiography." Current Objectives of Postgraduate American Studies, vol. 16, no. 1, 2015. <http://dx.doi.org/10.5283/copas.221>. Accessed 23 June 2015.
- von Gleich, Paula. "Fugitivity against the Border: Afro-pessimism, Fugitivity, and the Border to Social Death." Borders, Borderthinking, Borderlands: Developing a Critical Epistemology of Global Politics, edited by Sebastian Weier and Marc Woons. E-International Relations, 2017, pp. 203–15. <https://www.e-ir.info/2017/06/27/afro-pessimism-fugitivity-and-the-border-to-social-death/>. Accessed 24 Nov. 2021.
- von Gleich, Paula. "How Black is the Border? Border Concepts Travelling North American Knowledge Landscapes." Knowledge Landscapes North America, edited by Christian Klöckner, Simone Knewitz, and Sabine Sielke. Winter, 2016, pp. 191–210. https://www.winter-verlag.de/en/detail/978-3-8253-6627-8/Kloeckner_ea_Eds_Knowledge_Landscapes/. Accessed 24 Nov. 2021.
- von Gleich, Paula. "Markus Nehl, Transnational Black Dialogues: Re-Imagining Slavery in the Twenty-First Century (Bielefeld: transcript, 2016), 212 pp." Amerikastudien / American Studies, vol. 62, no. 4, 2018. https://dgfa.de/wp-content/uploads/von-Gleich_62.4.pdf. Accessed 22 Dec. 2018.
- von Gleich, Paula. "The 'Fugitive Notes' of Teju Cole's Open City." Atlantic Studies: Global Currents, 2021. 10.1080/14788810.2020.1870399.

I also presented work in progress at several conferences: the Postgraduate Forum of the German Association for American Studies, 10–12 Oct. 2014, Johannes Gutenberg Universität Mainz; FORUM INPUTS, 15 Jan. 2015, Institute for Postcolonial and Transcultural Studies, University of Bremen; Summer Institute 'Borders,

Borderthinking, Borderlands,' 15–25 May 2015, University of Bremen; 62nd annual conference of the German Association for American Studies, 28–31 May 2015, Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität Bonn; 11th biennial conference of the Collegium for African American Research "Mobilising Memory: Creating African Atlantic Identities," 24–28 June 2015, Liverpool Hope University; annual meeting of the American Studies Association, 17–20 Nov. 2016, Denver, Colorado; international conference "Die un-sichtbare Stadt: Perspektiven – Räume – Randfiguren in Literatur und Film," 7–9 Feb. 2018, University of Bremen; annual conference of the Emerging Scholars Forum of the Association for Canadian Studies in German-Speaking Countries, 29 June–1 July 2018, University of Bern; 2nd International Conference of the Black Americas Network, "Black Power: Movements, Cultures, and Resistance in the Black Americas," 18–19 Oct. 2018, University of Bielefeld; 66th annual conference of the German Association for American Studies, 13–15 June 2019, University of Hamburg; lecture series Gender – Culture – Feminism, 8 Jan. 2020, University of Bremen; 41st annual conference of the Association for Canadian Studies in German-Speaking Countries, 14–16 Feb. 2020, Grainau; and the BAAS digital conference #BAAS2021 of the British Association for American Studies, online, 5–11 Apr. 2021.

I thank all co-panelists, conference participants, editors, and anonymous reviewers for their valuable feedback. I also thank my co-editors at COPAS, my companions at the Dobben office, and the members of the doctoral network Perspectives in Cultural Analysis: Decoloniality, Black Diaspora, and Transnationalism at the University of Bremen (esp. Dr. Cedric Essi, Dr. Marius Henderson, Dr. Mariya Nikolova, Dr. Ina Schenker, and Dr. Samira Spatzek) for their encouragement, exchange, and friendship. For support that helped me secure funding at the beginning of this project, I thank Prof. Dr. Elisabeth Arend and Prof. Dr. Norbert Schaffeld. I am indebted to Prof. Dr. Frank Wilderson and Prof. Dr. Jaye Austin Williams for feedback on this project in its early stages. I also thank Prof. Dr. Tina Campt for welcoming me as a visiting researcher to the Barnard Center for Research on Women and the Institute for Research on Women, Gender, and Sexuality at Columbia University in the City of New York in 2016. Special thanks go out to my supervisor and mentor Prof. Dr. Sabine Broeck, my referees Prof. Dr. Carsten Junker and Prof. Dr. Annika McPherson as well as Dr. Karin Esders, Prof. Dr. Arnim von Gleich and Cecilie Eckler-von Gleich, Prof. Dr. Kerstin Knopf, Vinnie Paul Melendez, and Prof. Dr. Isabel Soto.