

Contents

Foreword — VII

Tomas Bokedal, Ludger Jansen, Michael Borowski
Scripture and Theology in Context: An Introduction — 1

Part 1: Scripture and the Web of Meanings

Jeanine Mukaminega
An Anthropological Analysis of Ezekiel 13:17–21 — 35

Torleif Elgvin
Messiahs and Redeemer Figures in Postexilic Texts — 57

Luuk van de Weghe
Early Divine Christology: Scripture, Narrativity and Confession in Luke–Acts — 89

Tomas Bokedal
Why is the New Testament Called “New Testament”? — 119

Francis Borchardt
Disassembling Provenance: Origin Stories and Why They Matter for Scripture — 149

Part 2: The Bible at Work: Historical Case Studies

Beatrice Victoria Ang
Power Dynamics in the Preached Word: A Fourth Century Case Study — 165

Willibald Sandler
Augustine without a Theodicy of a Condemning God — 195

Ludger Jansen
Philosophy in Aquinas’ Exegetical Work and Its Meta-Theological Implications — 235

Knut Alfsvåg

Hamann between Luther and Hume — 261

Alison Milbank

Let Everything that Hath Breath Praise the Lord — 283

Brandon K. Watson

The Divine Forwards: Karl Barth's Early Exegesis of the Pauline Epistles — 305

Georg Fischer

Karl Rahner's Use of the Bible — 327

Part 3: Informing Theological Discourse: Systematic Perspectives

Boubakar Sanou and John C. Peckham

Canonical Theology, Social Location and the Search for Global Theological Method — 345

Hans Burger

Quadriga without Platonism — 375

Arnold Huijgen

Reinventing the Quadriga — 397

Mark W. Elliott

The Theological Art of Scriptural Interpretation: Lessons from von Balthasar — 415

Ida Heikkilä

The Holy Scriptures as a Recognition- and Witnessing-Authority — 433

Elisabeth Maikranz

The Relationship of Scripture and Tradition in the Light of God's Revelation — 453

Michael Borowski

Deriving Theology from Scripture — 473

List of Contributors — 487