

Contents

Preface	IX
----------------	----

Part One: General Perspectives

1.1 Communication Research and Media Science in Europe: Research and Academic Training at a Turning Point Angela Schorr	3
1.2 Interactivity: The New Media Use Option – State of the Art Angela Schorr	57

Part Two: The Mass Media in Perspective: Where are They Heading?

2.1 New Trends in TV and Radio Research Matthias Steinmann	115
2.2 Acceptance and Diffusion of Digital Television in Germany Thomas Döbler, Hans-Ullrich Mühlenfeld, Birgit Stark, & Michael Schenk	127
2.3 Making Money, Making Meaning: The Role of Communication in the Construction of a Television Station Culture Christine Daymon	147
2.4 The Publisher: Tutor of the Information Society Dietrich Kerlen	171
2.5 Media Assessment: The Future of Media Ethics Matthias Rath	187

Part Three: New Findings in Media Use and Media Effects Research

- 3.1 Media Effects Research 2002: State of the Art 201
Michael Schenk
- 3.2 Lonely Viewers? Families' Organization of Space and the 215
Allocation of Information and Communication Technologies
(ICT) in the Home
Veerle Van Rompaey & Keith Roe
- 3.3 "Free Minds": Prisoners' Interpretations of Media Phenomena 233
Heidi Vandebosch
- 3.3 Economic Affairs, Media Coverage, and the Public's 251
Perception of the Economy in Germany
Frank Brettschneider
- 3.4 Prognosis Methods on Television Viewing Patterns for 271
Target Audiences
René Weber

Part Four: Online Communication:
Present Status and Future Perspectives

- 4.1 Online Communication: Putting the Knowledge Gap Theory 289
into Perspective
Heinz Bonfadelli
- 4.2 Cyber-TV and The New Interactivity: The GIGA Case 309
Thomas Döbler, Birgit Stark, & Torsten Haux
- 4.2 "Is there anybody out there?" Creative Language Play and 325
"Literariness" in Internet Relay Chat (IRC)
Angela Goddard
- 4.3 Ethnography on the Net: Language, Culture, and 345
Communications
Michal Anne Moskow
- 4.5 Explorations in Students' Sense-Making of the Internet 361
Micheline Frenette

Part Five: European Research on Interpersonal and Organizational Communication

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 5.1 Management of Organizational Communication in
The Netherlands: Glass Ceiling and Encroachment
A. A. van Ruler & Rob de Lange | 389 |
| 5.2 The Advance of Public Relations as a Discipline:
Retrospect and Prospect
Joep Cornelissen, Danny Moss, & Phil Harris | 409 |
| 5.3 A Comparative Study of Communicative Skill:
Theory and Practice
William Campbell & Andrzej Falkowski | 425 |
| 5.4 Voice and Power: A Critical Investigation of Accounts of Bullying in Organizations
Kate Mackenzie Davey & Andy P. D. Liefhooghe | 441 |
| 5.5 The Structure and Agency of Communion Dimension in Interpersonal Communicative Interaction
Goran Bubas | 459 |

Part Six: Perspectives on Children, Gender, and Political Culture in Media Research

- | | |
|--|-----|
| 6.1 Engaged from Birth: Children Under Two Talking on Telephones
Julia Gillen | 479 |
| 6.2 Everyday Discursive Practices and The Construction of Gender: A Study at the "Grass Roots"
Lindsey Meân Patterson | 497 |
| 6.3 Images of the First Female Prime Minister of Turkey:
An Analysis of Political Cartoons in the Turkish Newspapers
Ayseli Usluata | 517 |
| 6.4 The Forgotten Europe of Small Community Media:
The Basque Experience
Iñaki Zabaleta | 535 |

VIII Contents

- 6.5 Working Together, Living Apart: Inter-Group Communication 551
within Organizations in Northern Ireland

Owen Hargie, Seanenne Rainey, & David Dickson

Part Seven: Big Brother is Watching You? Communication Research and Media Development in Europe – Comments from Abroad

- 7.1 Interaction between Online Communication and TV-Viewing: 577
Current Status and Future Perspectives

Horst Stipp

- 7.2 Can Big Brother and His Siblings Play Together More? 585
The Potential for Transatlantic Work on Media Coverage of Science and the Environment

Michael Nitz

- 7.3 The Converging Approaches of American and European 599
Dialogue: Combining Pragmatic and Theoretical Ideas in the Resolution of Complex Problems

Scott C. Hammond & Matthew L. Sanders

Contributors 611

Author Index 621

Subject Index 641