

Contents

Vorbemerkung	V
Einführung — Reinhard Brandt	1
Michael R. Ayers, Locke's Doctrine of Abstraction: Some Aspects of its Historical and Philosophical Significance ..	5
Reinhard Brandt, Observations on the First Draft of the Essay concerning human understanding	25
John Dunn, Individuality and Clientage in the Formation of of Locke's Social Imagination	43
Lorenz Krüger, The Concept of Experience in John Locke ...	74
Edmund Leites, Locke's Liberal Theory of Parenthood	90
Wolfgang von Leyden, Locke's Strange Doctrine of Punish- ment	113
John R. Milton, John Locke and the Nominalist Tradition ..	128
G.A.J. Rogers, Locke, Law and the Laws of Nature	146
H.A.S. Schankula, Locke, Descartes and the Science of Nature	163
Udo Thiel, Locke's Concept of Person	181
Roger S. Woolhouse, Locke, Leibniz, and the Reality of Ideas	193
John W. Yolton, Locke and Malebranche: Two Concepts of Ideas	208
Index of Names	225
Index of Subjects	227
Index of References to, and Quotations from, Locke's Works	229

