

Contents

Entrance — 1

Part One: A Critical Theory of Social Space: Home and Aura

Chapter 1

The Philosophical Gate into the Present Work — 11

Chapter 2

The Dialectics of Home — 30

- 1 Approach — 30
- 2 Spatiality, Memory, and the Tragic — 32
- 3 The Corner — 39
- 4 Art in the World of Housed Objects and Homeless Bodies — 43
- 5 Auratic Life — 46
- 6 Aura: Spatializing Time — 53

Chapter 3

Exile and the Struggle with the Unattainability of Home and the Impossibility of Art — 55

- 1 Art as a Home for the Exiled — 60
- 2 Exile as Spatial Execution and Historical Extinction — 63
- 3 Exile as a Wounded State of Being — 69
- 4 The Monsters of Exile — 74
- 5 Memory and Forgetting — 76
- 6 Exile: Spatiality Going out of Focus — 80
- 7 Existential Loneliness and Exile — 83

Chapter 4

The Dialectics of the Gaze: Aura and a Philosophy of the Window — 88

- 1 The Window — 89
- 1.1 Spatial dialectics of the window — 89
- 1.2 The Window's Objective and Functional Dualism — 92
- 1.3 The Poetics of the Window — 93
- 1.4 Window and Exile — 96
- 1.5 Window and Aura — 98
- 2 The Dehoming Gaze and Spatial Imperialism — 99

- 3      Death of Subjecthood and Home: Houses without Subjects and Subjects without Houses — 102
- 4      Renavigation: The Path Forward — 105

Part Two: Biopolitical Economy of Housing and The Production of Homelessness

Chapter 5

The Absolute and the Death of Home — 109

- 1      Home and the Constitution of Oppression — 109
- 2      Capitalism and Totalitarian Space — 120

Chapter 6

Fetishized Space and Disembodied Identities — 126

- 1      The Spatiality of the Body and Totalitarianism: Politics of Depoliticization — 127
- 2      Rights without Space and Space Devoid of Rights — 129
- 3      Oppression and the Bourgeoisification of Subjecthood — 135
- 4      The Politicization of the Body — 137
- 5      Totalitarian Nihilism: Liberalism's Undemocratic Processes of Candidacy — 141
- 6      Conclusion — 145

Chapter 7

The Gaze of Power and De-housing: Biopolitical Economy of Homelessness — 147

- 1      The Displacing Gaze of Power: Forms and Means of Dehousing — 148
- 2      The Untouchables and Biopolitical Power of Homelessness — 156

Chapter 8

Auracide and the Critical Theory of Social Space — 165

- 1      Urbicide and its Implication — 165
- 2      Urbicide: Political Accounts — 167
- 3      Auracide and Nationalism — 169
- 4      Auracide: The Killing of Spatial Aura of the City — 171
- 5      The Universal Non-Identity One and the City — 173
- 6      Urbanity as New Spaces of Enslavement — 177
- 7      Capitalism, Nationalism, and Systematic Dehousing — 183

Concluding Remarks — 188

- 1 On the Theory — 188
- 2 On Homelessness — 188
- 3 On the Death of Home — 190
- 4 On Anti-Totalitarian Spatial Resistance — 191
- 5 On Home, its Dreamers, and Crossing the Borders of the Possible — 193

References — 196

Index — 204

