This research was undertaken as part of the CATENA project, which received funding from the European Research Council (ERC) under the European Union's Horizon 2020 research and innovation programme (grant agreement no. 770816) and also made possible its publication in Open Access. In researching and writing this book, I have benefitted greatly from the knowledge and suggestions of Prof. Hugh Houghton, the principal investigator of the CATENA and Codex Zacynthius projects, of which I had the privilege to be a member as a research fellow at the Department of Theology and Religion in the University of Birmingham (UK) from 2018 to 2021. I would like to express my special gratitude to Dr. Georgi Parpulov for his continual support, immense knowledge, encouragement and useful critiques of my work. My thanks are also extended to my other colleagues at Birmingham's Institute for Textual Scholarship and Electronic Editing (ITSEE): Dr. Amy Myshrall, Jacopo Marcon, Emanuele Scieri, Dr. Catherine Smith and Andrew Patton. I would also like to thank my parents and my friends for their encouragement. And lastly, I would like to thank my wife, for her support and patience over the past years. This volume is dedicated to her and to our daughters, Ioanna and Dimitra.
