

Contents

Johanne Slettvoll Kristiansen, Marius Warholm Haugen, and Angela Fabris
A Cultural History of European Lotteries – Introductory Essay — 1

Jeroen Puttevils

Criticising the Lottery in Its Cradle – The Low Countries in the Long Sixteenth Century — 37

James Raven

Imagining Trust and Justice – The Rise and Fall of the English State Lottery 1694–1826 — 65

Michael Scham

The Failed Promise and the Success of the Spanish Lottery — 97

Angela Fabris

The Ambivalent Perceptions of the Genoese Lotto and the Idea of the Magic Circle in the Italian Literary Discourse of the Eighteenth Century — 125

Marius Warholm Haugen

Staging Lotteries in the Age of the Loterie de France (1776–1836) — 153

Jeroen Salman

The Political, Socio-Economic, and Cultural Impact of Lotteries on Dutch Society (1700–1850) — 183

Johanne Slettvoll Kristiansen

Innovation, Temptation, and Mathematical Education – The Dano-Norwegian Lotto and the Struggle for Opinion — 211

Marly Terwisscha van Scheltinga

“If I Had the Great Prize...” – Lottery Fantasies in Lottery Rhymes from the Early Modern Low Countries — 247

Tilman Haug

Selling Like a State? Lottery Advertising, Commercial Rivalries, and the Public Sphere in Eighteenth-Century Germany — 273

Natalie Devin Hoage

Lottery Advertisements and Comedies in Late Georgian England — 313

Anne Beate Maurseth

Jackpot! Turning the Lottery Fantasy into a Societal Critique – Le Gros lot by Hector Chaussier — 337

Paul Goring

The Lottery in British Prose Literature of the Long Eighteenth Century — 359

Inga Henriette Undheim

Lottery Dreams in Dano-Norwegian Skilling Ballads — 389

Marius Warholm Haugen

“Plus de loterie!” – Cultural Responses to the Abolition of the French State
Lottery — 419

Contributors — 445

Name Index — 447