

Table of Contents

Wittgenstein Publications Referred to by Abbreviation — XI

Editorial — 1

I Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus: 100 Years After

Hanne Appelqvist

Is There Aesthetics in the Tractatus? And If There Is, What Is It Doing There? — 5

Michael Beaney

„Also“ sprach Wittgenstein: Propositional Logic and Modal Qualificational Logic in the Tractatus — 19

Anne-Marie Søndergaard Christensen

“So Too it is Impossible for There to Be Propositions of Ethics”. A Novel Approach to Tractatus 6.42 — 33

Mauro L. Engelmann

Mauthner, Wittgenstein, and the Kraus Circle — 45

Daniele Bruno Garancini

Tautologies and Theorems: The Epistemology of Logic of the Tractatus Is Not Self-Undermining — 59

Richard Heinrich

Remarks on the Notion of ‘Expression’ in Wittgenstein’s Tractatus – Against the Background of Frege’s Early Essays — 73

Lars Hertzberg

The Tractatus, Ethics, and the Unsayable — 85

Herbert Hrachovec

Against Auto-Da-Fé: A Sanguine Reading of Wittgenstein’s Tractatus — 101

Urszula Idziak

Wittgenstein's Battlefield: The Kerensky Offensive — 117

Wolfgang Kienzler

Über den definitiven Text der Logisch-Philosophischen Abhandlung.
Die Geschichte der bisherigen Textverbesserungen und einige neue
Vorschläge — 133

James C. Klagge

Some Early Reactions to Wittgenstein's Tractatus — 145

Oskari Kuusela

Wittgenstein on the Difficulty of Rejecting Metaphysics — 165

Jakub Mácha

Unveiling the Complexity: Three Levels of Ethics in Wittgenstein's Tractatus — 185

Cheryl Misak

Wittgenstein in Green I: Ramsey Translates the Tractatus — 199

Gabriele M. Mras

„Well then, what is logic about?“ – Anmerkungen zu einer als „überwunden“
geltenden Debatte über die „Gesetze des Denkens“ — 211

Martin Pilch

About a Possible Chronological Order of Wittgenstein's Notes on Logic — 227

David G. Stern

An Outline of a Genetic Reading of Wittgenstein's Tractatus — 255

Susan Sterrett

“Found Objects” in Wittgenstein: Concepts of the Meter — 271

Nuno Venturinha

The Epistemology of the Tractatus — 287

II Wittgenstein and the Vienna Circle

Annalisa Coliva

“So one cannot, e.g., say ‘There are objects’ as one says ‘There are books’”.
From Tractatus 4.1272 to Carnap via On Certainty 35–37 — 303

Maria Carla Galavotti

Wittgenstein and Ramsey on Probability, Frequency, and Belief — 319

Dejan Makovec

Open Texture in Science and Philosophy — 335

Jesús Padilla Gálvez

Wittgenstein and Schlick: Two Approaches to Expression — 347

Radek Schuster

Our Method: Between Tractatus and Scientific World-Conception — 361

Thomas Uebel

A Bull in a China Shop? Neurath on Wittgenstein’s Tractatus — 375

III Wittgenstein after the Tractatus

Anat Biletzki

The Unfortunate Pitfalls and Fruitful Temptations of Over-Interpretation — 399

Anna Boncompagni

Sraffa, Piccoli, and Wittgenstein’s 1931 Remarks on Gestures: A Reassessment — 417

Stefan Majetschak

Seeing the World Aright: Some Remarks on the Relations among Ethics, Aesthetics, and Philosophy in Wittgenstein’s Early Work up to 1930 — 431

Anat Matar

Peculiar Presences and Remarkable Absences: Wittgenstein in Postmodernist
French Philosophy — 443

John Preston

Wittgenstein's Early Philosophical Feeling and "the Relative Position of Logic and Mechanics" — 463

Genia Schönbaumsfeld

Skepticism in the Tractatus and in On Certainty — 477

Ilse Somavilla

Wittgensteins Ringen mit den Grenzen der Sprache — 489

Sarah Anna Uffelmann

Wittgenstein on Grammar in the Blue Book — 507

Anja Weiberg

„Mancher wird sagen, daß mein Reden über den Begriff des Wissens irrelevant sei“ (BPP II, 289). Wittgensteins Kritik an den philosophischen Idealen des Sublimen und der Sublimierung — 519

IV 70 Years after Wittgenstein's Death: Nachlass, Editions, and New Sources

Christian Erbacher

"I should publish those old ideas and the new ones together" or: Tragedy and Irony in the History of Editing Wittgenstein as Exemplified in the Story of Peter Philipp's Edition Tractatus Logico-Philosophicus – Philosophische Untersuchungen — 539

Michael Nedo

Wittgensteins Gedankenbewegungen am Beispiel seines zweiten Buchprojekts, des Big Typescript: Die Zettelsammlung TS 212 – eine gewaltige Gedächtnisleistung – die zugleich Wittgensteins Schwierigkeiten zeigt, seine Gedanken in eine der damals möglichen Buchformen zu zwingen — 549

Alfred Schmidt

The Wittgenstein–Richards Correspondence and a Three-Level Model of Wittgenstein's Nachlass — 567

Jonathan Smith

Copyright in Wittgenstein's Nachlass — 585

Thomas Wallgren

Von Wright as Wittgenstein's Literary Executor — 595

Joseph Wang-Kathrein

Nonsensical Actions and the Justification of Rules — 619

Index — 633

