

Short contents

Foreword by Adrian Miller — V

Preface — VII

Conventions and Abbreviations — XIX

- 1 An intriguing situation — 1
- 2 Social and linguistic background — 12
- 3 Grammar: general, gender, and verbals — 32
- 4 Grammar: nominals, nominalisations, and more — 60
- 5 Methodology, meanings, and exceptions — 82
- 6 Where the words came from — 108
- 7 Gathering it in — 136
- 8 Verbals — 155
- 9 Nouns — 192
- 10 Adjectives and time words — 251
- 11 Survey of avoidance speech styles in other Australian languages — 278
- 12 Typology and development — 298

Texts in Jalnguy — 317

Grammatical forms in common to the everyday (Guwal/Ngirrma; Ev) and avoidance (Jalnguy; Ja) speech styles of the Dyirbal-speaking nations — 350

Glossary — 355

References — 363

Index — 367

Books by R. M. W. Dixon — 371

Maps

Map 1 Dyirbal and surrounding languages and dialects — 13

Map 2 Australian languages for which an avoidance style has been reported — 300

Data base

The following documents can be accessed at <https://www.degruyter.com/document/isbn/9783111464473/html>

- (1) Thesaurus of Dyirbal across all dialects and speech styles; (1a) Nominals, and (1b) verbals.
- (2) Complete lexicon of Dyirbal Jalnguy

Detailed contents

Foreword by Adrian Miller — V

Preface — VII

Conventions and Abbreviations — XIX

1 An intriguing situation — 1

1.1 Meanings exposed — 3

1.2 Nuclear verbs — 6

2 Social and linguistic background — 12

2.1 Nations and dialects — 12

2.2 Information available — 14

2.3 Life-style — 17

2.4 The classificatory kinship system — 19

2.4.1 The basic kin terms — 21

2.4.2 Nyalal, the more specific or ‘polite’ kin terms — 24

2.4.3 Rules for choosing a spouse — 25

2.5 The use of Jalnguy — 28

2.6 Male initiation — 30

3 Grammar: general, gender, and verbals — 32

3.1 Orientation — 32

3.1.1 1st and 2nd person pronouns — 34

3.2 Noun markers and the like, and genders — 35

3.2.1 Genders — 37

3.2.2 Verb markers, ancillaries, and -ŋulañ- — 39

3.2.3 Full verb markers in definitions — 42

3.3 Verbals and transitivity — 43

3.3.1 Valency-changing derivations — 44

3.3.2 The applicative/causative derivation — 45

3.3.3 Valency-reducing derivations, and transitivity pairs — 47

3.3.4 Verbal reduplication and semantic suffixes — 53

3.4 Verbalisation — 55

3.4.1 Verbs of motion — 57

4 Grammar: nominals, nominalisations, and more — 60

- 4.1 Relative clauses — 61
- 4.2 Specification of a core argument — 62
- 4.3 Addition of a peripheral argument — 63
- 4.4 Nominalisations — 65
- 4.5 Nominal derivational suffixes — 69
- 4.6 Addition of a particle — 71
- 4.7 The consequence construction — 72
- 4.8 Serial verb constructions — 75
- 4.9 Compounds — 76
- 4.10 Outline of phonology — 78
- 4.10.1 Phonological changes in northern dialects — 79

5 Methodology, meanings, and exceptions — 82

- 5.1 Methodology — 82
- 5.2 More on ‘definitions’ — 86
- 5.2.1 Bringing in mime — 86
- 5.2.2 The narrative technique — 87
- 5.2.3 Different facets of a meaning — 88
- 5.3 Aspects of meaning — 90
- 5.3.1 A Ja verb referring to an integrated sequence of actions — 90
- 5.3.2 Splitting of meanings — 90
- 5.3.3 Ambiguity — 91
- 5.4 Across word classes — 93
- 5.4.1 Noun based on adjective and adjective based on noun — 93
- 5.4.2 Noun based on noun — 94
- 5.4.3 Noun or adjective based on verb — 97
- 5.4.4 Verb based on noun, adjective, or verb — 99
- 5.5 The ways in which Ja exploits grammatical resources — 101
- 5.6 Exceptions — 103
- 5.6.1 Lexemes being the same in Ev and Ja — 103
- 5.6.2 Ev lexemes with no Ja correspondent — 105
- 5.6.3 Grammatical words having a Ja correspondent — 106

6 Where the words came from — 108

- 6.1 The data base — 109
- 6.1.1 In Dyrbal — 109
- 6.1.2 In Yidiñ — 111
- 6.2 Lexemes between dialects and between languages — 114
- 6.3 Sources of Jalnguy lexemes — 117

- 6.4 Dialect-internal phonological deformation — 117
- 6.5 From an everyday style lexeme in another dialect or language — 122
- 6.6 From another Jalinguy — 124
- 6.6.1 Evidence from phonological changes — 124
- 6.6.2 Evidence from phonological form — 128
- 6.6.3 Evidence from conjugation membership — 129
- 6.6.4 Evidence from affixes — 129
- 6.6.5 Semantic evidence — 130
- 6.6.6 Evidence from language/dialect distribution — 131
- 6.6.7 Geographical evidence — 132
- 6.6.8 Summary — 132
- 6.7 Conclusions — 133

7 Gathering it in — 136

- 7.1 Beginnings — 136
- 7.2 Systematic work — 141
- 7.3 Consolidation — 148

8 Verbals — 155

- 8.1 Overlapping word classes — 155
- 8.2 The corpus — 160
- 8.3 Transitivity — 163
- 8.4 Motion and rest — 166
- 8.4.1 Simple motion — 167
- 8.4.2 Simple rest — 168
- 8.4.3 Position in water — 170
- 8.4.4 Induced motion and induced rest — 170
- 8.5 Affect — 175
- 8.6 Giving — 178
- 8.7 Attention — 179
- 8.8 Speaking — 180
- 8.9 Corporeal — 184
- 8.10 Break and fall — 187
- 8.11 Adverbals — 189
- 8.12 Summing up — 190

9 Nouns — 192

- 9.1 Basics — 192
- 9.1.1 Forms — 192
- 9.1.2 Organisation — 196

9.1.3	Loan words —	198
9.2	Body parts —	201
9.3	Human classification and spiritual terms —	208
9.4	Kin terms —	212
9.5	Fauna —	213
9.5.1	Mammals, amphibians, and reptiles —	214
9.5.2	Birds and fish and other water creatures —	216
9.5.3	Insects and other small creatures —	219
9.6	Material culture —	223
9.7	Flora —	230
9.7.1	Basics —	230
9.7.2	Names of individual plants —	232
9.8	Language and noises —	238
9.9	The elements —	240
9.9.1	Fire and water —	240
9.9.2	Weather and celestial —	242
9.9.3	Geography and places —	243
9.10	Summary —	247
10	Adjectives and time words —	251
10.1	Evaluation —	251
10.1.1	Negation —	254
10.2	Preliminaries —	256
10.3	Referring adjectives —	260
10.4	Human propensity adjectives —	269
10.5	Time words —	273
11	Survey of avoidance speech styles in other Australian languages —	278
11.1	Languages with an avoidance speech style —	280
11.2	Languages lacking an avoidance speech style —	295
12	Typology and development —	298
12.1	Typology of Australian avoidance styles —	298
12.2	Jalnguy in typological perspective —	309
12.3	Evolution and development —	313
12.4	Conclusion —	314

Texts in Jalnguy — 317

- Text 18. Ad hoc monologue in Jirrbal Jalnguy — 317
Text 27. Ad hoc conversation in Jirrbal Jalnguy and Girramay Jalnguy — 330
Text 32. Conversation in Jalnguy (Mamu and Jirrbal) — 337
Text 33. Further conversation in Jalnguy (Mamu and Jirrbal) — 341
Text 78. Ad hoc text in Mamu Jalnguy — 348

Grammatical forms in common to the everyday (Guwal/Ngirrma; Ev) and avoidance (Jalnguy; Ja) speech styles of the Dyirbal-speaking nations — 350

Glossary — 355

References — 363

Index — 367

Books by R. M. W. Dixon — 371

Maps

Map 1 Dyirbal and surrounding languages and dialects — 13

Map 2 Australian languages for which an avoidance style has been reported — 300

Data base

The following documents can be accessed at <https://www.degruyter.com/document/isbn/9783111464473/html>

- (1) Thesaurus of Dyirbal across all dialects and speech styles; (1a) Nominals, and (1b) verbals.
- (2) Complete lexicon of Dyirbal Jalnguy