

Acknowledgments

The authors are grateful to various colleagues, both in academia and industry, who read through draft manuscripts. Gratitude also goes to Hitesh Kumar, Chanchal, Garima Babbar, Asha Yadav, and Ankur Kumar, research scholars at the Department of Operational Research, who have helped read the drafts as needed. Divya, another scholar from the Department of Operational Research, deserves special mention as she played a significant role in articulating the documents. Our appreciation also goes out to Ranis N. Ibragimov, Ph.D., Acquisition Editor: Mathematics and Computer Science, De Gruyter, and the content editor, Ms. Adelinde Luyken, who have played a vital role in informing us of the guidelines and other steps of the manuscript production process. In addition, we are honored to be associated with Prof. Mangey Ram, who showed faith in us for carrying out the book compilation work under his series.

Of course, no author can complete a book project without family support. We extend our heartfelt appreciation to our respective families for their patience, which allowed our thoughts to be translated and compiled into this book.

Furthermore, this editorial work has been supported by grants received by the first and second authors from the Institute of Eminence, DU, India, as part of the Faculty Research Program via ref. no. IOE/2024-25/12/FRP.
