

Contents

Eva Janáčková

Introduction — 1

Eva Janáčková

Names, Names and Yet More Names? The Pinkas Synagogue in Prague — 7

Jiří Holý

Cemeteries and the Presentation of the Past in Terezín: The Formation and Transformation of Diverse Types of Memory — 41

Jakub Hauser

An Overlooked Victim of Normalization: Abandoned Plans for the Development of Commemorative Sites in Terezín and Litoměřice from 1968 — 59

Monika Čejková

Between Heaven and Earth: The Radicalism of Aleš Veselý's Designs for the Terezín Memorial — 85

Deborah Johnson

A Still, Small Voice: The Power of Humility in Gunter Demnig's Stolpersteine — 101

Nicolas Dreyer

Urban Memory of the Holocaust from Communism to Civic Activism:
The Case of Wrocław — 111

Jan Elantkowski

An Ephemeral Monument for the Trauma of the Place: The Warsaw Ghetto and Joanna Rajkowska's Oxygenator — 141

Viktória Bányai and Kinga Frojimovics

Martyr Memorials Erected by Jewish Communities in Rural Hungary Between 1945 and 1956 — 157

András Szécsényi

Under the Wings of Archangel Gabriel: New Holocaust Memorials in Budapest — 175

Linda Mannheim

Who Is a Holocaust Memorial For? Two Memorials in Berlin-Schöneberg — 189

Meital Raz

Excavating the Present: Micha Ullman's Library and Counter-Monumental Spaces — 205

Leonard Stöcklein

Against the National Narrative? Commemorating the Genocide of German Sinti and Roma in Berlin-Marzahn and Jena — 223

Anna Míšková

Different Paths to Dignified Remembrance: Memorials to the Holocaust of the Roma and Sinti in Lety and Hodonín in the Czech Republic — 239

Sources and Literature — 259

List of Abbreviations — 273

List of Contributors — 275

Index of Names — 277