

Contents

Preface — V

Abbreviations — IX

Jens Schröter

Introduction — 1

Jens Schröter

Rome in the New Testament: Early Traces of the Significance of the urbs in Christian History — 5

Juan Manuel Granados Rojas

The Weak and the Strong in Rom 14:1–15:13 — 33

Joseph Verheyden

A First Step Towards Reading 1 Clement in its Roman Context: Re-assessing the Patristic Evidence on the Date and Authorship of the Letter — 53

Emanuele Castelli

The Shepherd of Hermas in Its Roman Context: A Fresh Look at the First Three Visions — 99

Armant Puig i Tàrrach

The Relationship between the Writings of the New Testament and the Roman Empire — 119

Paolo Costa

The Application of the Lex Iulia de collegiis in the Early Imperial Context: Remarks for New Testament Exegesis — 153

Edmondo F. Lupieri

The Mystery of the Woman or the Mystery of the Beast? Looking for Rome in the Book of Revelation — 201

Tobias Nicklas

Jews and Christians in First Century Rome: Fragmentary Evidence — 215

Lucrezia Spera

The Cult-Sites of Peter and Paul at Rome in the First Centuries of Christianity: From the Written Sources to the Monumental Remains — 237

Antonio Pitta

Four “Prophecies from the Event” (vaticinia ex eventu): On Paul, Peter, and Rome — 267

Peter Gemeinhardt

Encounters of Christian Faith and Philosophy in Second and Third Century Rome — 281

Winrich Löhr

The Impact of Cerdo, Marcion and Gnostic Teachers on Roman Christianity in the Second and Third Centuries — 313

Charlotte Kirsch-Klingelhöffer

Justin Martyr and Tatian the Syrian in their Roman Context — 343

Emanuela Prinzivalli

Hippolytus, Gaius and the Alogi in Second and Third Century Rome — 363

List of Contributors — 391

List of Figures — 393

Index of Ancient Sources — 395

Index of Names and Subjects — 407