

Contents

Acknowledgments — VII

Prologue and the Scope of the Book — 1

Chapter 1

Introduction — 4

Learning the Lingo — 5

Sex, Gender, and Gender Norms — 5

Masculinity, Femininity, and the Gender Hierarchy — 7

Intersectionality and the Gender Hierarchy — 11

Gender Hierarchy as an Analytical Framework — 13

Contributions and Aims of this Book — 14

Section I: Politics and Gender Hierarchy

Chapter 2

Gender Hierarchy and Everyday Politics — 19

What Women (and Men) Want (Politically): Political Preference and Participation Gaps — 21

Gender Hierarchy and Socialization in the Home — 25

Parents as the First Example of Political Engagement — 27

Motherhood and Gendered Political Socialization — 28

Fatherhood and Political Socialization — 30

When Private Matters become Public Concerns — 31

Conclusion — 34

Chapter 3

Gender Hierarchy and Behavior of Political Elites — 36

Party People: Political Parties and Gender Hierarchy — 37

How Female Political Elites Behave — 40

Women on the Campaign Trail — 40

Women in Office — 42

Substantive and Descriptive Representation: Do Women Represent Other Women in Office? — 44

How Male Political Elites Behave — 45

On the Campaign Trail — 45

How Male Elites Behave in Office — 48
Substantive and Descriptive Representation: Do Men Represent Other Men? — 51
Conclusion — 53

Section II: Economics and Gender Hierarchy

Chapter 4

Gender Hierarchy in the Household Economy — 57

The Household as an Economy — 58
The Gendered Consequences of Household Economics — 59
Historical Roots of Gendered Labor — 63
Breadwinners and Homemakers: Gender Norms that Govern the Household Economy — 64
Renegotiating the Household Bargain — 67
Conclusion — 71

Chapter 5

Gender Hierarchy and National Economies — 73

Gender Hierarchy, Government Regulations, and Taxation — 74
Who Can Have—or be—Property — 75
When Labor is Legal and When it is Exploitative — 78
Tax Policies — 80
Gender Hierarchy and Government Spending — 82
Welfare Programs — 82
Childcare Programs — 84
Development and Industrial Policies — 86
Optimism and Caveats about Economic Policies and Gender Hierarchy — 88
Conclusion — 89

Chapter 6

Gender Hierarchy and International Economics — 91

Gender and International Trade — 92
Gender and International Austerity Programs and Liberalization — 97
Gender Hierarchy and International Economic Sanctions — 99
Conclusion — 103

Section III: Security and Gender Hierarchy

Chapter 7

Gender Hierarchy and Justifying War — 107

- Why do We Go to War? — 108
- Masculinity and Warfighting — 108
- Femininity and Recruitment into Armed Groups — 113
- Conclusions — 120

Chapter 8

Gender Hierarchy and War — 121

- Gender Hierarchy and Socialization in Armed Groups — 122
- Men’s Socialization in Armed Groups — 124
- Women’s Socialization in Armed Groups — 127
- Gender Hierarchy and Patterns of Violence in War — 130
- The Legacies of Wartime Socialization under Gender Hierarchy — 134
- Gender Hierarchy and the Socialization of Civilians in War Zones — 137
- Conclusion — 138

Chapter 9

Gender Hierarchy and International Security — 140

- Gender Hierarchy and Likelihood of War — 142
- The Women, Peace, and Security Agenda, Feminist Foreign Policy, and State Security — 142
- The State as a Masculine Protector — 147
- Masculine Protectors Abroad — 147
- Masculine Protectors at Home — 150
- Conclusions — 154

Section IV: The Fight Ahead

Chapter 10

Gender Hierarchy and Backlash — 157

- Backlash: What is it and Where Does it Come From? — 159
- The Precarity of Masculinity and Backlash Politics — 160
- “Good Girls” and Backlash — 162
- How and Where Backlash Manifests — 163
- The International Community and Backlash — 163

Backlash at the National Level —	164
Backlash at the Individual Level —	169
Conclusions —	170

Chapter 11

Conclusions and the Way Forward —	172
--	------------

Way Forward: —	173
Eroding Gender Hierarchy —	173
In Our Personal Lives, We Can: —	174
In National Politics, We Can: —	175
We Can Also Push for Change in the International System: —	178
Being a Feminist in Public —	179
Closing on a Note of Hope —	181

Works Cited —	182
----------------------	------------

Index —	212
----------------	------------