

Contents

Ulla Haselstein and Florian Sedlmeier

Introduction: Forms of Narrative Continuation — 1

Andreas Mahler

Continuation and the Novel: Open Context and the Problem of Closure — 15

MaryAnn Snyder-Körber

Clotels: Bad Beginnings, Instructive Continuations — 31

Florian Sedlmeier

“He Keeps Happening”: Character and Situation in W. D. Howells’s A Modern Instance — 61

James Dorson

Serial Singularity: Reading for the Project Form in the Business Romance — 83

Jeremy Rosen

Genre-Bending Literary Fiction and the Pleasure of Immersion in Fictional Worlds — 113

Simone Sannio

The Eternal Draft: Authorial Revision and Philip Roth’s Construction of the Oeuvre — 141

Julie Dickson

Nicole Krauss’s To Be a Man: Implications of Continuity in the Jewish American Short Story Collection — 165

Deidre Lynch

Ali Smith and the Unfinished Book: Novels, Middles, and Serialization in an Electronic Age — 197

Ulla Haselstein

Of Masks and Men: Percival Everett’s James — 221

Andrew S. Gross

Eclogue: The End of History in Verse (Continued) — 247

Birte Wege

Shakespeare, Ibsen, and the Staged Future of Robots — 267

Frank Kelleter

The Remake as Fetish Art: On Gus Van Sant's Psycho and Other
Psychos — 293

List of Contributors — 315