

Contents

Introduction — 1

- 1 “The Largest Privately-owned Department Store Group in Europe”:
The Hermann Tietz OHG 1882 to 1932 — 7
  - The Rise from a Linens Store to a Department Store Empire — 7
  - The Entrepreneurial Family after the Death of Oscar Tietz — 13
  - “A World of Its Own”: The Hermann Tietz Group — 17
  - The Beginning of the End? The “Payment Slump” in the Great Depression — 24

- 2 From Hermann Tietz to Hertie: The “Aryanization” 1933/34 — 33
  - The “Department Store Question” and Anti-Semitic Agitation — 33
  - The “Anti-Jewish Boycotts” after the National Socialist Takeover — 36
  - Edging towards Collapse: The Hermann Tietz Group in the Department Store Crisis of Spring 1933 — 41
  - The Path to Hertie: The Banks’ Conversion Plans and the Political Framework — 46
  - The Founding of Hertie and the Beginning of the “Aryanization” of the Hermann Tietz Company — 54
  - The “Aryanization” of the Group Assets in the Partition Agreement of 1934 — 70
  - Georg Karg: Profiteer with Ambitions — 81

- 3 From the Banks to Karg. The Hertie Waren- und Kaufhaus GmbH 1935 to 1937/40 — 89
  - The Next Crisis — 89
  - How Georg Karg Took Over the Hertie Group — 99
  - Karg, Neckermann and the Zentrallagergemeinschaft für Bekleidung, ZLG (1942–1944): A Digression — 111

- 4 Emigrated and Plundered. The Tietz Family after the “Aryanization” of the Company — 115
  - The Affiliated Companies and the Legends about a “Severance Payment” — 115
  - The Costly Farewell to Germany — 122
  - The First Stage of Emigration and the Financial Naturalization of the Tietz Family in Liechtenstein — 127

From Camp to Camp: The Emigration of the Zwillenberg Family — 133
Robbed and Expropriated: The Confiscation of Family Property — 136
The Callous Exploitation of Household Goods and Collections — 146

5 Rebuilding and Safeguarding. The Hertie Waren- und Kaufhaus GmbH in the Post-war Period 1945 to 1974 — 150

Loss and New Beginnings — 150
Integration of Hansa AG and AWAG-Wertheim Holding: A Digression — 155
Growth and First Signs of Crisis — 158
Reorganization as a Foundation-owned Company, 1953 to 1974 — 164

6 Wiedergutmachung: Complicated Issues — 173

A Sketch of Special Laws and Rights — 173
Claims and Objections: Early Restitution Negotiations — 179
The Settlement with Hertie in 1949: Restitution by Leasing — 190
Harmonies and Dissonances: The Implementation of the Settlement — 195
Duty or Charity: The Restitution Case of Paul Held Nachf. 1953/54 — 214
Restitution of Real Estate and Land — 221
Bureaucratic Compensation — 231

Conclusion — 238

Appendix

Acknowledgement — 251

Notes — 253

List of Abbreviations — 303

Picture Credits — 307

Primary Sources — 309

Bibliography — 313

Index of Persons — 321