Acknowledgements

My interest in aspect and aktionsart arose in the middle of the 1970's. Studying the Swedish passive constructions, I more than once found myself in a cul-de-sac, due to my inability to understand and describe theoretically the internal time reference of the verb. Agreeing largely with the ideas presented in Jackendoff's paper 'Towards an Explanatory Semantic Representation', I nevertheless realized that Jackendoff's theory did not give enough consideration to questions regarding aspect and aktionsart. However, as I found this theory to be a useful tool for the description of Swedish, I decided to try to strengthen it by complementing it with an account of aspect and aktionsart, based upon Swedish facts. In the preliminary stages of this work, I was luckily forced to read Erik Andersson's dissertation 'Verbfrasens struktur i svenskan'; although I do not agree with his solutions, I have benefited greatly from his survey of facts in this areas. Also of utmost importance for my work has been the excellent review of the research of aspect and aktionsart, presented in Sven Gunnar Andersson's book 'Aktionalität im Deutschen'.

In the course of my work, a number of people have helped me in various ways. I am especially grateful to my brother Sven Platzack, who has always been ready to discuss my problems and has more than once helped me to look at things from new and more fruitful angles. I would also like to thank Sven Gunnar Andersson, Thore Pettersson, Suzanne Schlyter, and Renate Steinitz for their very valuable comments on an earlier version of this book; although I do not always agree with them, their suggestions and remarks have been of great importance for the final appearance of this book. Naturally, none of them could be held responsible for the ideas presented here.

Steve Mitchell deserves credit for his job in correcting my English and his suggestions of stylistic improvements; moreover, I have enjoyed his company.

Finally, I would like to thank my friends and colleagues at the Institutionen för nordiska språk in Lund, who have patiently endured my acceptability tests and readily discussed my proposed descriptions. I owe a special debt of gratitude to Anna, Bengt, Gunilla, and Linda, who in addition have constantly helped me to remember that life is not only linguistics.
