Instructions to Authors

1. Only original papers that have not previously been published will be accepted.
Manuscripts may be submitted in English, German or Russian but always in duplicate. The name of the institute (inclusive full address) from which the manuscript originates should be stated below the author's name(s). The authors are responsible for the contents of their contributions.
2. Original papers should not consist of more than 20 typewritten pages (2 lined-spacing), including references, tables and figures; short original communications may have a maximum of 6 typewritten pages.
3. Each paper should be preceded by a summary in English.
4. Latin names of species as well as passages to be printed in italics for greater emphasis should be signed with wavy line. Please use only units and symbols of the SI-system.
5. Tables may be used to effect a reduction of the text or to make assimilation easier. They should be numbered consecutively throughout and supplied with a brief heading. They shouldn't be written among the text but on separate sheets.
6. Number and size of illustrations should be limited to the essential minimum, they should be numbered consecutively and brought on separate sheets.
Line drawings including graphs and diagrams should be drawn in black ink. Half-tone illustrations should be supplied as white glossy prints. Figure legends are to be typed in sequence on a separate sheet.
Authors name is to be written on to the rear of each sheet.
7. References, listed at the end of the contribution, should contain only works cited in the text. They should be numbered in the order in which they are at first mentioned in the text. Please give surnames and initials of all authors, name of journal abbreviated according to "Chemical Abstracts — List of Periodicals", volume number, year of publication, issue number or month, first page number; books are to be cited with full title, edition, volume number, page number, place of publication, publisher and year of publication.
8. Notes on the text may be given as footnotes on the relevant page.
9. 50 reprints are free of charge.
Additional reprints may be ordered.
10. The author receives 2 galley proofs for correction.
They are sent back to the redaction
(Dr. Dimter, DDR-7050 Leipzig, Permoserstr. 15)
as soon as possible.

"Acta Biotechnologica" publishes reviews, original papers, short communications and reports out of the whole area of biotechnology.

The journal shall promote the foundation of biotechnology as a new, homogeneous scientific field. According to biotechnology are microbial technology, biochemical technology and technology of synthesizing and applying of bioanalogous reaction systems.

The technological character of the journal is guaranteed thereby that microbial, biochemical, chemical and physical contributions must show definitely the technological relation.
