

Contents

Acknowledgments 7

Introduction 9

The Structure of the Work 16

Chapter 1 – Rethinking Interactive Practices as Cultural Artifacts 19

1.1 The Importance of Context..... 20

1.2 Interactive Practices as Cultural Artifacts. How to Examine Context 24

1.3 Urgent (Inter)action. Contributing to the Study of Interactive Practices about Migration..... 27

1.4 Scholarship on Interactive Documentaries and New Documentary Ecologies 29

1.5 The Corpus of Interactive Practices about Migration: Viewing from Within and Viewing from Above 39

1.6 Software Studies and the Challenge of Preserving Interactives..... 44

1.7 Why do Interactive Practices about Migration Matter?..... 48

Chapter 2 – (Digital) Outcast..... 51

2.1 The Economics of Interactive Practices 53

2.2 When the New Gets Old 63

2.3 Update or Die: Format Wars 67

2.4 Regimes of Obsolescence 78

2.5 Preservation Strategies for Interactives: The Sound and Vision Institute and the National Film Board of Canada .. 82

2.6 Ephemeral, Displaced, Re-Usable. The Future of Interactive Archives.... 89

Chapter 3 – A View from Within	97
3.1 Simulating Border Crossings	98
3.2 Rules of the Game	111
3.3 Verfremdungseffekt	116
3.4 Freedom of Choice. Text-Adventures and “Regimes of Circulation”	119
3.5 Witnessing Refugee Camps	129
3.6 Viewing from Within: Simulating Vulnerability, Simulating Borders	138
Chapter 4 – A View from Above	141
4.1 The Visual Display of Migration	142
4.2 Humanitarian Mapping: Data Storytelling with Tableau	157
4.3 Humanitarian Mapping: Mapping Data with Story Maps	161
4.4 Scaling, Simplifying, Governmentalizing. Viewing from Above	176
Chapter 5 – The Promise of Humanitarianism	181
5.1 Call for (Inter)action	182
5.2 Media for Change	188
5.3 Ironic Spectators	191
5.4 From Pity to Irony, to an Ethic of Empathy?	195
5.5 Humanitarianism in Perspective: the “Emergency Imaginary” in Interactive Maps	200
5.6 The Promise behind Humanitarian Logistics and Infrastructures	209
Conclusions	217
Bibliography	227
List of Interactive and Film References*	255