

Foreword	9
Albert Kirchengast
The Analogue, the Adaptive, and the New:	13
Thinking the Grammar of Landscape
Christophe Girot
Toward a Theory of Contemporary	31
Landscape Ornament
Lara Mehling
The “Green Image of the City”	65
Mapping Zurich: A Case Study
Dunja Richter
Távora, Siza, and Nature	83
Tony Fretton
Museum Insel Hombroich: The Construction	91
of an Alternative Natural Space
Frank Boehm
Ruach: Two Children	101
Anja Ronacher
A Farewell to the Concept of Landscape?	113
Ludwig Fischer
A Vision of the Rural	129
Albert Kirchengast

The Ethical Relevance of Simple Things Art, Crafts, Design, and Modern Life Günter Figal	151
Other Ways We Could Build Florian Nagler	165
The Simple's Strength Rethinking Vernacular Form Klaus Zwirger	179
Licht im Norden Ludwig Fischer	193
To Design Is to Transgress: Toward an Understanding of Architectural Design Achim Hahn	197
The Essence of the Analogy in Architecture— And the Spirit of cittá analoga Henrike and Tom Schoper	211
Carpet of Memory: Messages from Monuments Nott Caviezel	227
Prospectus for an Academy in the Countryside A Dialogue Jörn Köppler, Simon Strauß	237
Appendix	249

