

Acknowledgements

The idea for this anthology originated with a number of discussions and conferences that took place from 2002 to 2004 in between New York, Amsterdam and London that created so much activity that we decided to put together an anthology. This volume would have been impossible without Elena Gorfinkel and Charles Leary, who initiated the Cinephilia conference series and organized the first conference in New York in February 2002. A meeting in Amsterdam in June 2003 was followed a year later by a conference in London, organized by Jenna Ng and David Forgacs. We have to pay tribute to everybody who participated in making this extended series of exchanges possible. We also thank Thomas Elsaesser and the University of Amsterdam, in particular the Department of Media Studies, for supporting us with the second conference in 2003 in Amsterdam as with this publication.
