

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	7
Acknowledgements	9
Note on Romanisation and Publication History	13
Introduction: Global Longings with a Cut	15
Cosmopolitan Poses and Haunting Questions	15
From Liumang to Dakou and Balinghou	17
The Geography of Chinese Rock	25
This Book	33
1 Hard Scenes	37
A Scenic Move	37
Underground	43
Heavy Metal	54
Hardcore Punk	60
Hip-hop	68
Interim	74
2 Hyphenated Scenes	75
Multiplicity	75
Folk-rock	75
Pop-rock	84
Pop-punk	88
Fashionable Bands	94
Ending a Scenic Journey	100
3 Subaltern Sounds	103
Marginal Voices	103
Gendering Music	104
Southern Vices	119
Seductive Sounds	129
Femininity, Locality and Opacity	138

4	Musical Taste and Technologies of the Self	139
	Music and Society	139
	Youth in Fin-de-siècle Beijing	142
	Music Preferences and Involvement	148
	The Gendered Self	152
	Generational Differences	154
	Place and Belonging	156
	Building Subjectivity	158
	The Political Self	161
	Technology and Control	163
5	Producing, Localising and Silencing Sounds	167
	Seductive Narratives	167
	Market Fantasies	169
	Cultural Be/Longings	175
	Silencing Sounds	180
	Commercial Complexities	190
	Conclusion: Paradoxical Performances	193
	Mirrors	193
	Deparadoxicalisation	195
	Sonic Hierarchies	198
	Binary Socialism	199
	Notes	203
	Chinese Glossary	217
	Appendix I Interviews	223
	Appendix II Factor Analysis of Singers	229
	Appendix III Popularity of Singers and Bands	230
	Bibliography	231
	Index	244