

Contents

Foreword	9
1 Steam and Istmus Canals	13
2 Rivalries in the Western Pacific	21
In search of new markets and political influence	22
The great Russian-French combination	29
China's Open Doors	35
Great Britain's search for an ally	39
3 Planters, Traders and Labour in the South Pacific	43
The ocean of the future	48
The white settlers	50
Labour traffic	52
Commerce and politics	53
Conflicts over land	56
Policing the Pacific	58
4 Fiji: The Start of Anglo-German Rivalry in the Pacific	63
Germany's ambitions	66
The reign of King Cakobau	69
The aftermath of annexation	73
5 The Samoa Conflict	81
An American takes control	84
Weber goes on the offensive	90
6 Germany Enters the Colonial Race	97
Australian claims and fears	102
The Moresby annexation	105
Bismarck's Reichstag debacle	108
The New Guinea expedition	111
The Queensland annexation	113

7	The New Guinea Protectorates	121
	The hoisting of German flags	122
	The hoisting of British flags	124
	Australian astonishment and indignation	131
	New negotiations and hoisting of flags	133
	A different style of diplomacy	135
	The Anglo-German colonial honeymoon	138
	The wider South Pacific	142
8	Great Britain, Russia and the Central Asian Question	147
	Persia and Afghanistan and the threat to India	149
	Russian moves and British countermoves	154
9	Samoa Remains a Source of International Tension	161
	Germany presses on	162
	The Tonga Islands	167
	Civil war in Samoa	170
10	The Emerging Economic World Powers	177
	Germany's world politics	177
	America's large policy	186
	Asia for the Asians	189
	Building strong navies	191
	The American-Japanese naval race	195
11	Great Britain, France and Southeast Asia	201
	The French military expeditions to Tonkin	204
	The end of the Kingdom of Ava	217
12	The French Expansion Westwards into Southeast Asia	227
	The Franco-Thai war	231
	Continued British-French rivalry	236
	The Anglo-French Declaration	241
13	Russia, Japan and the Chinese Empire	245
	The Sino-Japanese War	252
	Russo-Japanese strife over Korea	263

14	Thailand and Beyond	267
	The Race for Yunnan	270
	An ambitious Governor-General	278
	The Malay Peninsula	283
15	The Scramble for China: The Bay of Jiaozhou and Port Arthur	295
	The consequences of military defeat	298
	Port Arthur	310
16	The British Reaction: Wei-Hai-Wei	317
	Wei-hai-wei	323
	Railway concessions	330
17	The Scramble for China Continues: Guangzhouwan and Tibet	337
	The Boxer Rebellion	340
	The British incursion into Tibet	346
	How far to enter into Tibet	351
	The Anglo-Tibetan Convention	355
18	The Failed Annexation of Hawaii	359
	American interests in Hawaii	361
	The white settlers take charge	365
	Annexation or not?	373
19	The United States Becomes a Colonial Empire	381
	The Japanese spectre	382
	The Philippines, unexpected spoils of war	386
	The American Empire	398
20	The Partition of Samoa	401
	New negotiations	405
	Samoa under foreign rule	413
21	The Russo-Japanese War	417
	Preparing for war	420
	The Anglo-Japanese Alliance	423
	The Korean question	428
	The Russo-Japanese war	431

22	Great Britain's Search for Secure Colonial Frontiers	439
	The South Pacific	440
	The Entente Cordiale	446
	The Anglo-Russian Convention	451
	The Persian Question	457
23	The United States, Japan and the Pacific Ocean	463
	Japan's role in the Pacific	465
	American-Japanese relation	471
	Russia and Japan guarding their spheres of influence	474
	Japan and Russia consolidate their position in China	483
	Japan and the Pacific	486
24	Epilogue	489
	Bibliography	499
	Index	511
	List of Treaties, Agreements and Joint Statements mentioned	521