

Contents

Acknowledgements	7
Introduction – From Sjöström to Seastrom	9
Sjöström – From National to International	17
Lyrical Intimacy as Authorial Style	20
National or International in Public Debate	22
American Voices on Sjöström	24
A European in Hollywood – NAME THE MAN and the Shift of Production Systems	27
Production Cultures	30
Contaminating Hollywood	32
Stylistic Variations	38
From Scientist to Clown – HE WHO GETS SLAPPED	43
Sjöström as Hollywood Scriptwriter	47
Traces of the Narrator	49
The Symbolic Clown	51
Transformed Identities	53
The Question of Whitefacing	55
He, the Clown	60
A for Adultery – THE SCARLET LETTER	63
Hester Prynne and the Spectacle	66
An Aesthetics of Light	69
Stylistic Devices	74
Conquering Nature – THE WIND	79
Landscape of the Origins	83
Framing the Wind	85
Shattering the Frame	87
From Physical Space to Mental Space	90
The Final Crossover	93
Fragmented Pieces – Writing the History of the Lost Hollywood Films	99
Authorial Imprints: CONFESSIONS OF A QUEEN	100
Lagerlöf in Hollywood: THE TOWER OF LIES	105
THE DIVINE WOMAN – From Bernhardt to Garbo	109

A Strange Interlude: THE MASKS OF THE DEVIL	112
The Shadow of the Silents – A LADY TO LOVE	119
One Film, Two Versions	120
The Transition to Sound	124
The Transition from Silents	128
Europeans in Hollywood	131
The Genius and the System – Some Concluding Remarks	133
Notes	137
Bibliography	149
Filmography	153
Index	155