

Contents

Foreword	7
1 Introduction	9
Return Migration/the Returning Migrant: To What, Where and Why?
Michiel Baas
2 Neither Necessity nor Nostalgia	25
Japanese-Brazilian Transmigrants and the Multigenerational Meanings of Return
Sarah LeBaron von Baeyer
3 The Fluidity of Return	39
Indian Student Migrants' Transnational Ambitions and the Meaning of Australian Permanent Residency
Michiel Baas
4 Resident 'Non-resident' Indians	55
Gender, Labour and the Return to India
Amy Bhatt
5 'It's Still Home Home'	73
Notions of the Homeland for Filipina Dependent Students in Ireland
Diane Sabenacio Nititham
6 Looking Back while Moving Forward	93
Japanese Elites and the Prominence of 'Home' in Discourses of Settlement and Cultural Assimilation in the United States, 1890-1924
Helen Kaibara
7 Return of the Lost Generation?	115
Search for Belonging, Identity and Home among Second-Generation Viet Kieu
Priscilla Koh

8	'A Xu/Sou for the Students'	135
	A Discourse Analysis of Vietnamese Student Migration to France in the Late Colonial Period
	Cindy A. Nguyen
9	'The Bengali Can Return to His Desh but the Burmi Can't Because He Has No Desh '	157
	Dilemmas of Desire and Belonging amongst the Burmese-Rohingya and Bangladeshi Migrants in Pakistan
	Nausheen H. Anwar
	Contributors	179
	Bibliography	183
	Index	199