

Table of Contents

1. Devotees of Science: An Introduction 7
Nikolaj Bijleveld, Arjen Dijkstra, and Samuel Gessner

Cultivators of Knowledge: From Europe to Franeker

2. The Changing Landscape of Science in Eighteenth-Century Europe 25
Klaas van Berkel
3. Eise Eisinga's World: The Profile of a Devotee to Astronomy between Enlightenment and Romanticism 47
Arjen Dijkstra

Brokering Knowledge: Devotees of Science

4. Electricity and Enlightenment: The Itinerant Lecturer Martin Berschitz 81
Oliver Hochadel
5. The 'Paysans' Christian Gärtner and Johann Georg Palitzsch: Astronomical Pursuits of the 'Common Man' and the Public Image of Science 119
Sibylle Gluch
6. In Service to Know the World: Alexandre Moreau de Jonnès and a Soldier's Devotion to Studying the Colonies (1818–1839) 161
Hugues Chabot, Pierre Crépel, Thierry Dumont, Christian Gaillard, Maryannick Lavigne-Louis, François Renaud, Denis Reynaud, Dominique Saint-Pierre, and Thomas C. Anderson
7. Putting Knowledge to Use: Clergy and Science in Denmark and the Netherlands around 1800 185
Nikolaj Bijleveld

Mediation of Knowledge: Artefacts and Context

8. The Oratorian Teodoro de Almeida (1722–1804) as a
Planetarium Maker in France and Portugal 213
Luís Tirapicos and Samuel Gessner
 9. Imagining Our Place amongst the Stars: Visual Astro-knowledge and Early Modern Understandings of the Universe 237
Wouter de Vries
 10. The Third Book of Wisdom: Eisinga, the Planetarium, and Eighteenth-Century Learning 267
Fokko Jan Dijksterhuis
- Acknowledgments 291
- Index 293