

Table of Contents

List of Illustrations	7
-----------------------	---

Introduction	15
--------------	----

Cultural Responses to Catastrophes from Early Modern to Modern Times Hanneke van Asperen and Lotte Jensen
---	--

Part 1 Disaster and Emotions

1 Temporality, Emotion, and Gender in Leonardo da Vinci's Conceptualisation of Natural Violence	39
--	----

Susan Broomhall

2 Early Modern Community Formation Across Northern Europe How and Why a Poet in Poland Engaged with the Delft Thunderclap of 1654	61
---	----

Paul Hulszenboom

3 Landscape as Wounded Body Emotional Engagement in Visual Images of Floods	83
--	----

Hanneke van Asperen

4 Suffering Compatriots Compassion, Catastrophe, and National Identification in the Netherlands in the Nineteenth Century	103
---	-----

Fons Meijer

5 Cultural Resilience during Nineteenth-Century Cholera Outbreaks in the Netherlands	121
---	-----

Lotte Jensen

Part 2 Disaster and Blame

6 Dealing in Disasters Selling Apocalyptic Interpretations of Disasters in the Sixteenth- Century Low Countries	139
---	-----

Marieke van Egeraat

- 7 The Ten Plagues of the New World 157
The Sensemaking of Epidemic Depopulation in Sixteenth-Century
Mesoamerica
Florian Wieser
- 8 'Hungry Balliz Wants Weel Fillin' 177
The Visualisation of the Great Irish Famine (1845–1851) and the Lancashire Cotton Famine (1861–1865) in the Victorian Illustrated
Press
Sophie van Os
- 9 Rinderpest in Dutch Regional Fiction 205
Community, Precariousness, and Blame
Anneloek Scholten

Part 3 Disaster and Time

- 10 Coping with Epidemics in Early Modern Chronicles, The Low 229
Countries, 1500–1850
Theo Dekker
- 11 Coverage in Dutch Newspapers of Earthquakes in Italy and 249
Beyond before Lisbon 1755
Joop W. Koopmans
- 12 The Development of Disaster Prints and Publications in Japan, 269
1663–1923
Julia Mariko Jacoby
- 13 Breaking the Cycles of Catastrophe 293
Disaster, Time, and Nation in Dutch Flood Commemoration Books, 1757–1800
Adriaan Duiveman
- 14 Disaster Memory and 'Banished Memory' 315
General Considerations and Case Studies from Europe and the United States (19th–21st Centuries)
Christian Rohr