

List of Figures and Tables

Figures

- Fig. 1.1. Two Chinese coolies accused of leading a coolie revolt in the Banka tin mines. The photo was taken in 1899 and has the caption: 'Captured Chinese gang leader Li Hong and one of his supporters surrounded by KNIL soldiers during the containment of a Chinese rebellion on Bangka, 1899.' 32
- Fig. 3.1. The coolie scandal in Deli. A well-heeled and self-righteous Delian carrying De Planter (The planter) in his pocket. 72
- Fig. 3.2. Execution at the company Kisaran in Asahan on 4 January 1893 of the Javanese Tasmin and Kromo di Rono for their participation in the murder of Roeckl, assistant at Tandjong Alam in April 1891. 91
- Fig. 4.1. Bounty hunters from among the Batak peasantry in the region roamed around in search of runaway coolies to bring them back to the enterprise to which they were indentured. 104
- Fig. 6.1. The Monument to the Belgian Pioneers in Congo in Jubelpark/Parc du Cinquanteaire in Brussels. The Congo monument in Jubelpark in Brussels that the king commissioned bears the following inscription: 'I have undertaken the work in the Congo in the interest of civilization and for the good of Belgium. Leopold II, 3 June 1906'. And in the cornice: 'Erected in honour of the first Belgian pioneers.' 142
- Fig. 6.2. The punishment with the chicotte (hippopotamus whip). Photo by Alice Seeley Harris. 147
- Fig. 6.3. Display of the severed right hands of Bolenge and Lingomo, killed by Abir overseers in May 1904. Original caption: 'Natives of the Nsongo district (ABIR concession). With hands of two of their countrymen, Lingomo and Bolengo, murdered by rubber sentries in May 1904. The white men are Mr. Stannard and Mr. Harris, of the Congo Balolo Mission at Baringa.' Photograph by Alice Seeley Harris. 163

Fig. 6.4.	A prisoner who has been made to walk with a severed leg around his neck.	175
Fig. 7.1.	The 'bachelor life' that the arrival of white women on the East Coast of Sumatra brought to an end.	198
Fig. 9.1.	The need for continued submission. Planter with Deli cigar, by Eberhard Freiherr von Wechmar.	240
Fig. 11.1.	Front cover of the 1914 pamphlet Indië verloren, rampspoed geboren (The Indies lost, disaster born) by C.G.S. Sandberg.	295
Fig. 12.1.	A jovial colonial having rijsttafel with bottles of beer under his chair, by Eberhard Freiherr von Wechmar.	316
Fig. 12.2.	Dutch war propaganda, distorting the truth. Source: NIOD Instituut voor Oorlogs-, Holocaust- en Genocidestudies (NIOD Institute for War, Holocaust and Genocide Studies).	327
Fig. 12.3.	Recruitment for the Koninklijk Nederlands Indisch Leger (Royal Netherlands East Indies Army, KNIL).	336
Fig. 16.1.	The Dutch GI Joe – Jan Soldaat – was accused of having committed war crimes. Tenaciously denied by veterans, a spate of investigations has produced solid evidence of 'excessive violence' as such practices were scaled down in official jargon. Jan Soldaat, on the cover of Elsevier 25 January 1969.	341

Tables

Table 9.1.	The changing size of the workforce in agro-industry, mining and government service, 1929-1934 (in thousands).	254
Table 11.1.	Selected companies by economic sector.	289