

CONTENTSPLENARY LECTURE ABSTRACTS

- S9 Innate Immunity: from flies to humans
 S10 Using laboratory science to individualise care in diabetes
 S11 Molecular medicine revolution – its impact in the clinical laboratory

SYMPOSIUM ABSTRACTS

- S12 Symposium - Engaging Patients with Laboratory Medicine
 S14 Symposium - Assessing cardiovascular risk: beyond LDL cholesterol and apo B
 S16 Symposium - Quantitative analysis of peptides and proteins in clinical chemistry by targeted mass spectrometry
 S19 Symposium - Exosomes and other extracellular vesicles as disease biomarkers
 S22 EFLM Session - Adding value to laboratory tests
 S26 IFCC Session - Improving patient outcomes through assay standardization
 S29 DGKL Session - Current status of the internal and external quality control in laboratory medicine exemplified by diabetes mellitus
 S33 Symposium - Diagnostic errors: a challenge for Laboratory Medicine
 S35 Symposium - New biomarkers of vascular damage
 S38 Symposium - Metabolomics perspectives in diagnosis
 S40 Symposium - Microbiome
 S42 IFCC Session - The IFCC eAcademy
 S46 EFLM Session - Next generation performance criteria for laboratory tests
 S50 BCLF Session - Standardization and harmonization of laboratory medicine in Balkan region
 S57 Symposium - Quality in Laboratory Management in Europe : impact of future trends on labs daily routine
 S60 Symposium - Glomerular filtration rate - linking clinical chemistry and nephrology
 S63 Symposium - Systems pharmacogenomics
 S65 Symposium - Autoimmune diseases
 S68 IFCC Session - Value and impact of laboratory medicine in patient care: what is the evidence?
 S71 EFLM Session - Guidelines – a call for cooperation between laboratory and clinical societies
 S75 IFCC TF-Pharmacogenetics Session
 S80 JCTLM Session - Metrology and standardisation in laboratory diagnostics
 S86 Symposium - Rare diseases - a call for European cooperation
 S87 Symposium - The new oral anticoagulants: a challenge for the Laboratory
 S90 Symposium - Biomarkers – key to personalized medicine
 S93 Symposium - Biology of Addiction
 S95 Symposium - Harmonisation of clinical laboratory practices: a need for Reference Intervals utilization

AIMS & SCOPE: CCLM keeps you up-to-date with the latest developments in the clinical laboratory sciences. It reports on progress in fundamental and applied research. CCLM is an essential tool for laboratorians, clinical chemists and allied health professionals who wish to keep abreast of the innovations in the clinical laboratory.

AREAS COVERED INCLUDE: clinical biochemistry, clinical molecular biology and proteomics, hematology and coagulation, immunology, microbiology, drug monitoring and analysis, evaluation of diagnostic markers, new reagents, reference materials, reference values, and quality in laboratory medicine.

REVIEWS AND MINIREVIEWS: In addition to original research articles, regularly published reviews, minireviews and opinion papers written by leading experts in the field keep you informed of latest advances in the clinical laboratory sciences.

Other article types: CCLM further promotes communication concerning the topics above by the publication of guidelines and recommendations, point/counterpoint papers, letters to the editor, and editorials.

EFLM PAPERS: CCLM is closely linked to the European Federation of Clinical Chemistry and Laboratory Medicine (EFLM) and publishes selected EFLM recommendations and EFLM news.

- High quality manuscript processing through ScholarOne Manuscripts®. Please submit your manuscript online at <http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/cclm>
- Rapid publication times: max. 2 weeks from acceptance to online publication
- Free publication of color figures both in online and print editions; no page charges
- Open Access publication option available

Free Access to CCLM for Conference Participants!

In order to activate your free access, simply register with De Gruyter Online or log in and go to your personal user account “My De Gruyter”. Please enter your access token cclm2015 into the field provided. Once you have redeemed your token, you will be able to access the free content via this journal page. The access is granted for 30 days for the complete contents of CCLM. You can find a detailed description of the activation process at <http://www.degruyter.com/page/267>. The offer is valid from June 1 until December 31, 2015.
