

Vol.2, No.1
Summer 1973

Papers in Japanese
Linguistics

Japanese Linguistics Workshop

PAPERS IN JAPANESE LINGUISTICS

Published by the Japanese Linguistics Workshop

Department of Linguistics

University of California, Berkeley

EDITOR

Masayoshi Shibatani
UC Berkeley

EDITORIAL BOARD

H. Aoki UC Berkeley

S. Kuno Harvard

G. Bedell UCLA

S.-Y. Kuroda UC San Diego

C.J. Fillmore UC Berkeley

S. Makino Illinois Urbana

K. Inoue ICU Tokyo

S.E. Martin Yale

J.D. McCawley Chicago

Papers in Japanese Linguistics is intended as a journal that provides a forum where students of the Japanese language can inform a growing number of interested scholars of their recent works, and exchange ideas concerning various problems centered around Japanese. PIJL appears twice a year, summer and winter, and it publishes papers dealing with any aspect of Japanese regardless of their theoretical background. In order to be considered for publication by the Editorial Board, all manuscripts must be submitted in duplicate, one adhering to the style sheet provided inside the back cover. Each author holds the copyright of his own articles, and is free to publish the same articles in other journals.

SUBSCRIPTION: Individuals: U.S. $7.00 per volume (two issues)

Libraries: U.S. $10.00

Make checks payable to: Japanese Linguistics Workshop

Articles for publication and subscriptions should be sent to: M. Shibatani, PIJL, Linguistics Program, Univ. of Southern California, Los Angeles 90007, U.S.A.