Journal of Japanese Linguistics

Editor-in-Chief
Natsuko Tsujimura (Indiana University)

Editorial Board

Mutsuko Endo Hudson (Michigan State University) Taro Kageyama (Kwansei Gakuin University Haruo Kubozono (Kobe University) Senko Maynard (Rutgers University) Shigeru Miyagawa (MIT) Yasuhiro Shirai (Cornell University)

Subscription information

JJL (ISSN 0197-3150) is published annually by the East Asian Studies Center at Indiana University. The subscription price of JJL is US $25 for individuals plus shipping ($2.50 in US, $3 to Canada/Mexico, $3.50 to other countries). Institutional subscriptions are US $35 plus shipping. A discount is offered to students (with ID). Orders accompanied by payment (by check (payable to EASC - JJL), Visa, MasterCard, or Discover) should be sent to East Asian Studies Center – JJL, Memorial Hall West 207, Bloomington, IN 47405, USA. Credit card orders may also be faxed to (812)855-7762. Some back issues are also available. Please consult the JJL web page for current information on availability and pricing of back issues:

http://www.indiana.edu/~easc/journals/jjl/.

Editorial policy

JJL publishes original research that deals with issues in Japanese linguistics from both theoretical and descriptive perspectives and from a wide range of areas including phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, language variation, acquisition, and historical linguistics as well as discussion of pedagogical implications. It is intended to provide linguists an opportunity for discussions of research and exchange of ideas and solutions. JJL also promotes interaction and collaboration between theoretical and descriptive camps so that together they may lead to a better understanding and treatment of Japanese linguistic phenomena. We encourage submissions that include the following: empirically oriented, descriptive work that includes original observations of linguistic phenomena; theoretical application to empirical work; discussion of linguistic issues problematic to language pedagogy and/or pedagogical implications; and abstracts of recent dissertations. The normal language of publication is English.

Notes for Contributors

Before accepting any manuscript for publication, every paper will undergo blind review. Submitted manuscripts should conform to the style points given below. If accepted for publication, the author(s) will be asked to submit a camera-ready copy (both electronic and paper). The editor assumes that a manuscript submitted for publication has not previously been published, and that it is not currently being considered for publication elsewhere. At the time of submission, the contributor should indicate if a modified version of the manuscript is being considered for publication elsewhere. Copyright will be held by JJL. A manuscript not accepted for publication will not be returned unless a self-addressed envelope and sufficient postage are provided.

Submit four copies of manuscript. Submissions should be written in English and printed on one side of letter-size or A4 paper. The author's name should not appear under the title on page 1, and any wordings elsewhere that would identify the author should be avoided. Please attach a separate sheet of paper that specifies the title and the author's name, affiliation, mailing address, and a 200 word abstract of the article. Areas of study to which the article may be of particular interest (formal syntax, conversational analysis, etc.) should be listed at the end of the abstract. All text, including notes, must be double-spaced. Endnotes, not footnotes, should follow the text of the article on a new page, labeled "Notes". References should also begin on a new page following the endnotes.

Example sentences should be accompanied by a word-for-word gloss and a free translation. For all Japanese citations, please use one of the commonly used Romanization systems. References should follow the examples below:

Itô, Junko. 1990. Prosodic minimality in Japanese. In: Ziolkowski, Michael; Noske, Manuela; and Deaton, Karen (eds.), CLS 26: The parasession papers from the 26th meeting of the Chicago Linguistic Society. vol. 2, 213-239. Chicago, IL: Chicago Linguistic Society.

Jackendoff, Ray. 1996. The proper treatment of measuring out, telicity, and perhaps even quantification in English. Natural Language and Linguistic Theory 14: 305-354.

Kageyama, Taro. 1996. Dooshi imiron [Verb semantics]. Tokyo: Kurisio Publishers.

Kishimoto, Hideki. 2001. Kabenuri koobun [Wall-painting constructions]. In: Kageyama, Taro (ed.), Nitieitaisyoo doosi-no imi-to koobun [The meanings of verbs and their constructions in Japanese and English], 100-126. Tokyo: Taishukan.

Levin, Beth and Rappaport Hovav, Malka. 1995. Unaccusativity: at the syntax-semantics interface. Cambridge, MA: MIT Press.

Tsujimura, Natsuko (ed.). 1999. The handbook of Japanese linguistics. Malden, MA: Blackwell Publishers.

Pd.D. dissertation abstracts should include the following: Title of dissertation, year awarded, name of institution, author's name, current affiliation, and email address as well as an abstract of no more than 500 words and information on how to obtain a copy (University Microfilms, directly from the author, publisher, etc.)

All submissions should be sent to: Natsuko Tsujimura

Department of East Asian Languages and Cultures Goodbody Hall 248 Indiana University Bloomington, IN 47405.