

Preis Ausschreibung/Award

Prize: Biochemical Analysis 2011

The German United Society of Clinical Chemistry and Laboratory Medicine (DGKL) seeks applications and/or nominations for the prize Biochemical Analysis 2011.

This prize, established in 1970, is awarded for outstanding and novel contributions in the areas of biochemical and molecular analysis, clinical chemistry or molecular medicine. The list of previous awardees includes 5 scientists who later received the Nobel Prize in their field (see www.DGKL.de).

The Biochemical Analysis Prize of €50,000, sponsored by Sarstedt AG & Co., will be awarded during the 21st International Congress of Laboratory Medicine in Berlin, Germany May 15–19 2011. The awardee shall present a prize-lecture on Tuesday 17th May 2011.

Applications and/or nominations for the 2011 prize should include a short curriculum vitae, a maximum two page description of the work meriting this particular recognition, a list of publications, a short list of five key publications, and a complete copy of one key paper. These documents should be submitted electronically as pdf files before 20 December 2010 to:

Prof. Dr. Ulrich Walter

Scientific Secretary of the Prize Biochemical Analysis
University of Wuerzburg
Institute of Clinical Biochemistry and Pathobiochemistry
Josef-Schneider Str. 2
97080 Wuerzburg, Germany
E-Mail: uwalter@klin-biochem.uni-wuerzburg.de