In the published article “Lawrence, T., Donnelly, M., Kennard, L., Souday, C. & Grant, R. (2022). Britain In or Out of Europe During the Late Mesolithic? A New Perspective of the Mesolithic–Neolithic Transition. Open Archaeology, 8(1), 550–577. <https://doi.org/10.1515/opar-2022-0249>,” there are errors in the Acknowledgments regarding the organisations that funded the research.

The correct text is as follows:

Acknowledgments: We would like to thank Sophie Boyadjieva for her constant diligence, support, and encouragement throughout the writing of this article. We are further indebted to Chantal Conneller and Chris Fowler for lending their expertise on the subject matter and the invigorating discussion that solidified the themes and ideas behind this article. We would also like to thank Alasdair Whittle for his insightful conversation and comments on the draft. This article is based upon information from the Bexhill to Hasting Link Road post-excavation project which is being carried out by Oxford Archaeology on behalf of East Sussex County Council. The project is funded by East Sussex County Council and English Heritage who are also thanked for their other contributions to the project.
